Officer's Shots Scare Bandit
Into Surrendering After Chase

By Associated Press
Green Bay—An automobile chase followed by a running gun fight with the police, resulted in the arrest of Francis Thomas, 25-year-old youth of Green Bay and Ed Powers, a southerner, on charges of burglary here Sunday.

The pair, together with another man who escaped, held up an oil station in the heart of the city before the chase began. The trio pulled up to the station in an automobile, which was thought to be the same machine reported stolen earlier in the day, and "snuck up" the attendant, who turned over the receipts of the morning. The bandits then escaped. However, the attendant hailed a policeman and the two in another machine went in pursuit.

CAR HITS TREE
The chase ended when the car of the holdup men hit a tree, they jumped out and started running up the street with their pistols drawn. The policeman followed and Powers, the first to be arrested, backed up against a wall, and threatened to shoot. Ignoring the threat the officer dealt a volley of shots, which frightened him into submission.

Thomas was later arrested at his room.

The machine used by the bandits was badly wrecked in hitting a tree. It was later identified as the one reported stolen.

Authorities believe the three men are responsible for a string of automobile thefts that were reported here within the last month.

Thomas, who is the son of a produce merchant here, and his companion were to be arraigned Monday afternoon on burglary charges. In the meantime police with a complete description of the escaped burglar, are hot on his trail.

WILBUR DISCOUNTS TALES OF GAS AND GERMS IN WAR

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Pictures of the "next war" as a process of annihilating whole communities by poison gases, germs and high explosives are viewed by Secretary Wilbur as absurd and not especially possible but also probably outside the possibility of human will.

The secretary in a statement Sunday night asserted reports that such methods of destruction had been perfected are "not true and not justified by past history or present conditions."

Production and transportation of poison gas in sufficient quantity would be impossible, Mr. Wilbur said, while the use of germs would mean a spread of disease to the forces employing them.

SUIT AGAINST STOKES

By Associated Press
Chicago—W. E. D. Stokes, New York hotel owner, was here Monday for the opening of the trial in criminal court on an indictment for conspiracy to defame the character of Helen Elwood Stokes, his former wife.

Mrs. Stokes, now in Denver, is expected to testify for the opening of the case Wednesday.

The charges Stokes faces, along with Daniel F. Nugent, one of his attorneys, grew out of testimony of Chicago residents in the divorce trial that Mrs. Stokes once was an inmate of a Chicago resort. Later these witnesses, some of them Negroes, retracted their testimony.

The audience, including 400 boys and girls, rose, waving red handkerchiefs.

The meeting adopted a resolution demanding the recognition of the Soviet republic and chanted the international repeatedly.

Five thousand persons were turned away from the meeting and 200 policemen were on hand.

Cold Wave Catches Speedy Dog
Team Racing to Fight
Epidemic

Nome, Alaska—A dog team, the fastest available in the Arctic regions was believed speeding over the blizzard swept course of a frozen river Monday in a race against the advances of a diphtheria epidemic here which counted its gains in the death of three victims within the last 48 hours. The team is driven by L. Zepella, and is carrying 300,000 units of anti-toxin.

Zepella was somewhere between Umanik, 200 miles from Nome and Safety, 21 miles away. A blizzard raged along the Bering sea coast Sunday which shot temperatures down to 10 below zero.

The danger of the 300,000 anti-toxin units being frozen increased every hour the dog team remained on the blizzard beaten road. Anticipating distress, a team of picked dogs was waiting at Safety, 21 miles from Nome, to take up the journey should the Zepella team pull in there.

Without the serum the health and medical organization here was making a losing fight Monday against the inroads of the epidemic which now lists 28 cases of the population of 1,000.

PEACE GUIDES DEMOCRACY,
HERRIOT TELLS AUDIENCE

By Associated Press
Paris—Peace was the guiding principle of true democracy, it had always been and would continue to be the inspiration of his government, Premier Herriot said in a speech here Sunday night.

The occasion was a meeting organized by a committee which seeks to erect, through the efforts of the peoples of the various nations, a monument to peace on one of the battlefields of the World war.

Referring to the Geneva protocol, he said:

"It was a source of pride for us and I believe for the democracies we more specially represent, that France was the first to put her signature at the bottom of this document, which from now on awaits but the signature of the other nations to the final charter of peace."

Policeman Is Exonerated for Shooting of Unidentified
Man in Hotel

By Associated Press
Herrin, Ill.—With a meeting of a grand jury underway Monday at Marion, Ill., it was probable that a more thorough investigation would be made into the slaying of a mysterious stranger in the Lyman hotel dining room here Sunday by Policeman Rufus Whitson who was exonerated on the grounds that he merely discharged his duty as an officer. Efforts to identify the slain man continued.

Glenn Fowler of Herrin testified that Judge E. N. Bowen had driven by the Smith garage where Fowler was standing and that he had pointed Fowler out to a stranger with him. Fowler was a friend of Glenn Young, slain Klan liquor raider.

Fowler said that the man with Judge Bowen was the man shot in the hotel. Charges were made that the stranger had telephoned Fowler asking him to the hotel, a race to lure him to his death. Judge Bowen could not be reached Sunday night. Mrs. Bowen at Eldorado, Ill., said her husband had gone to Lawrenceville to take a train for Chicago, but that she did not know his business there.

It was pointed out that the unknown man when slain wore a hat that belonged to Sheriff George Galligan of Williamson-co. It was identified through a cleaner's mark. The sheriff asserted that it had been removed from the jail without his permission.

Major Davis and Lieutenants E. Hansman and M. Moulton, sent to Herrin by Adjutant General Black of Springfield, returned to their homes at Carbondale. The request of Sheriff Galligan for martial law, however, had not been withdrawn.

The city council at a meeting Monday night will take up the question of the proposed martial law and also of the whole Herrin police department. It was said.

Another question awaiting the council was the status of Policeman Harold Crain whose allegation with Chief Walker partly resulted in the request of Sheriff Galligan for martial law.

White House Speech of new
French Ambassador Betrays
Lack of Purpose to Pay

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—Pleasing words, polite phrases of friendship, pointedly inserted in the prepared addresses of President Coolidge and Emile Daeschner, the new French ambassador, do not reveal the painful disappointment which exists in the United States government that France intends to make no serious effort to pay her war debt.

The coming of the new French ambassador who has just presented his credentials might have been the occasion for an announcement of some new policy on the part of France with respect to the debt, but tradition and custom does not require it to be so. Indeed, precedent was broken to some extent when the new ambassador referred even in general terms to the "debts of gratitude" between the two countries. The practice is for the speech of a new ambassador to be presented in advance to the department of state so the president can frame his reply. When Mr. Daeschner said the two nations had owed each other debts of gratitude had paid them, Mr. Coolidge pointedly agreed that participation in the great war had offset France's aid to America in the revolutionary days and observed that he hoped consideration would be given now to the payment of "material debts."

SHOW OFFICIAL STATUS

Had not the French ambassador referred to debts, Mr. Coolidge wouldn't have had the opportunity to reiterate his hope that France consider material debts. The exchange of hopes said little, however, to the situation, for the two speeches simply tell the official status of the whole debt problem. Underneath the surface the real situation can easily be discovered by anyone who takes the trouble to check up on some of the private conversations between President Coolidge and his callers here on the one hand and the French government and newspaper correspondents abroad.

The simple truth is that the French have not convinced Mr. Coolidge that they will pay or that they ever intended to pay and while Mr. Daeschner referred in his speech to the hope that America would cooperate still further "whether in general matters or in the consideration of questions which our two countries are interested," such a contingency depends altogether on whether the French reverse or continue their present policy.

To put it bluntly, the French imagine the "White House doesn't understand tactics and they will make use of them if they are much mistaken." The American government has no illusions about the French attitude and this fact more than anything else will have a bearing on whether America cooperates with Europe in any more formulas.

ORTHOIZEE COOLIDGE
Mr. Coolidge has been bitterly criticized by the "irreconcilables" for dwelling closer to Europe. He has felt that in such a course lay America's best opportunity for the payment of debts. The president is reliably reported to be in his first stages of disappointment and disillusionment with respect to European cooperation and whether France knows it now or not the new ambassador (Turn to Page 2, Column 4.)

THREE EMPLOYEES INHERIT
CHICAGO DAILY JOURNAL

By Associated Press
Chicago, Ill.—The Chicago Daily Journal was left by John C. Eastman, who died last week to a group of employees. Eastman was sole owner. No one was to have the property. An estimate of the value of the property was made but the probate judge fixed a $1,000,000 bond for the executor.

The estate is left to three executors—W. Frank Dunn, O. L. Hall and H. C. Deuter, who announced a plan of Mr. Eastman under which Harry L. Spencer, Richard J. Finnegan and O. L. Hall would be associated in the publication.

The men to whom Mr. Eastman entrusted the Journal said the executors "were intimately associated with him throughout the 20 years that he was proprietor."

Expect First Step In New Forestry Program

Madison—The first step in Wisconsin's forestry program under the constitutional amendment adopted last fall probably will be taken this week with the introduction of a resolution in the legislature providing for a committee to investigate and report forestry situation in the state, according to Elmer S. Hall, conservation commissioner.

The resolution is being drafted and is expected to be introduced this week. Mr. Hall said Monday. The committee would report to the 1927 session of the legislature after investigating the forestry situation in the state, according to the tentative plans. The sponsors of the proposal among the legislators were not made known.

Conservation matters will play leading roles in the sessions of the legislature this week it was learned Monday through the activities of many conservationists, here in support of proposed legislation. Members of various county chapters of the Izaak Walton league are in Madison at work on bills and resolutions that are calculated to bring support from the state.

One of these projects is in connection with the state attitude on the protection of the fish and game preserve in the Winnebago bottoms. Another refers to a method by which the state would be permitted to trade scattered tracts of land in northern Wisconsin desired by promoters of enterprises of the Land O' Lakes, Inc., for other tracts of similar value.

By Associated Press
Hurley—A little woman of 110 pounds Monday morning quietly goes about her affairs in the Gogebic hotel here under the watchful eye of a deputy sheriff as she makes every preparation to leave this city presumably never to return again. Four little boys come in and out of the hotel, little knowing that their mother is about to leave them.

The little woman is Emma Sigler, who late Sunday afternoon was sentenced by Judge W. R. Foley of Superior, to spend the rest of her natural life in state's prison at Waupun. The jury in the Sigler case deliberated 27 hours and 40 minutes before returning a verdict of guilty—guilty of being an accessory before the fact in the crime of murder.

Mrs. Sigler received the verdict unflinchingly and again when the court passed sentence she did not let a word flicker. Somewhere in her eyes was expressed a hope that she would yet go free and as she left the courtroom she smiled at newspaper men who gave her a farewell greeting.

The woman was charged with having hired Andy Gudleski who confessed to the crime, to kill her husband, Andrew Sigler.

Gudleski confessed that he was paid $400 and promised a total of $2,000 for "doing a good job." On the witness stand he repudiated her confession, but the jury refused to believe his story or that of Mrs. Sigler that she killed her husband in self-defense.

LACK SYSTEM OF CREDITS

Many Instances of Unnecessary Duplication Are Cited in Report

Washington, D. C.—Sharp criticism of the administration of certain federal laws and agencies affecting the farmer was contained in the report of the president's agricultural commission, made public Sunday night. It deals with the conduct of the department of agriculture, in interstate commerce commission, federal reserve board, tariff commission and internal revenue bureau.

Charging that administration of some departments is seriously handicapped by interdepartmental or inter-bureau jealousies, the commission said it found two "unfortunate results." These were that the "dog in the manger" attitude of one department may retard development of another and that rivalry may prompt proposals for departmental expansion.

CREDIT SYSTEM LACKING
The report declared the country lacked a unified credit system, a condition harmful to agriculture; that the interstate commerce commission "has failed or has been unable to recognize its responsibility as advocate of the shipper and has developed into a court," and that the tariff commission can materially assist agriculture by "actively functioning along the lines of its constituted powers and responsibilities."

Complete separation of the regulatory and service functions of government departments was recommended; and it was urged that uniform state plant and animal quarantine regulations be devised and that cooperative marketing organizations be given full benefit of tax exemption.

In many instances, the commission declared, "more effective administration requires only the adoption of a more sympathetic or aggressive attitude on the part of government officials," while in others, it found need for increased facilities, personnel or funds.

Magnus Johnson Charges Bootleggers' Money Elected Opponent

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—A charge of extortion of upwards of $75,000 from Minnesota bootleggers for use in the senatorial campaign of Representative Thomas D. Schall are made in a petition of contest filed Monday in the senate by the defeated opponent, Senator Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Laborer.

Senator Johnson alleges that the "extortion" was with the knowledge and consent of Mr. Schall, and that the money was used in the campaign. He declared it came from persons indicted in Minneapolis and other cities of Minnesota for violation of the liquor laws.

The further allegation was made that a "dummy" judge was installed in the Schall campaign headquarters to give credence to promises of "protection" and immunity.

Senator Johnson alleged that "large sums of money" in excess of the amount allowed by law were expended "by and in behalf of the election of Thomas D. Schall" and that large sums of money also were expended unlawfully in enlisting the aid and support of numerous persons in Minnesota in the publication and circulation of false and seditious publications.

The state's attorney characterized the "wine party" and "hunting" alibis set up by the defense as "pure concoction intended to explain the strong circumstantial evidence which points to the guilt of the two Italians." Attorney Lewis retired at 9:50 A. M. and Phillip LaFollette, Dane-co states attorney, took up the state's argument. Mr. Lewis will give the rebuttal for the state.

The case will be given to the jury Monday night. It was announced by Judge E. W. Crosby at Monday morning's recess after he had conferred with state and defense attorneys.

Graduates of Western

Cambridge, Mass.—Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard law school Monday definitely declined the offer of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin to become president of that institution. Dean Pound gave his answer to a committee of the board which came from Madison to interview him.

After a meeting with the committee which was headed by John Callahan, chairman of the Wisconsin Board of Regents, Dean Pound gave out the following statement:

OFFER IS TEMPTING
"The offer of the presidency of the University of Wisconsin was very attractive to both my wife and myself. The regents offered everything in a material way that one could ask and very much more than one could expect here. Also Mrs. Pound and I are westerners, both of us graduates of a state university and both of us believers in the western system of educational state universities. I recognize also that there could be no better place to do that work than at the University of Wisconsin."

On the other hand, Dean Pound said, "I have a real call for a vigorous man who understands the west and its institutions to devote his best energies to such an institution as the University of Wisconsin."

"On the other hand, years ago I deliberately devoted myself to legal education, legal research and endeavoring by teaching and writing to promote the most effective administration of justice. That work is at least scarcely less important than the work which is to be done as president of Wisconsin. Moreover, it is a work that I have come to understand. I do not feel justified on mere grounds of personal inclination towards life in the west or in a western academic community in deserting something that I had definitely taken up as my life task."

GAME ASSOCIATION WILL HOLD ANNUAL DINNER ON FEB. 9

The Rev. L. A. Brenner Has Been Asked to Deliver Address to Sportsmen

Outagamie Fish and Game Protective association will hold its annual dinner at 7:30 Monday evening, Feb. 9, at Elk hall with the Rev. L. A. Brenner of Chippewa Falls as the guest speaker. Notice will be issued this week and game reserves will be closed to hunting and fishing.

The Rev. Mr. Brenner is one of the leading sportsmen of the state and a champion of conservation of fish and game resources. He made an address at the recent state conservation convention in Madison which greatly impressed Wisconsin legislators which was in session with the protective association. The subject under discussion was the game and fish laws. The dinner will be held at the Elk hall and the speaker will be given the bill providing that all money from hunting and fishing licenses go to conservation work. About $500,000 of this money went to the general fund of the state a year ago. The newest proposals are that 25 per cent of the license fees go to construction and operation of hatcheries and the remainder to general conservation work. Approval probably will be given the bill providing for an open fishing season the year around in Lake Winnebago and an appropriation of $25,000 for removal of rough fish.

Trial of Michael Glasheen on charges of embezzlement of school funds during the time he was treasurer of Beaulieu hill school district in the town of Buchanan was opened before Judge A. M. Spencer and a jury in municipal court Monday morning. The case has been pending for about a year.

Glasheen in taking the witness stand testified that in the summer of 1921 he was worried by taxes and by mortgages coming due. He had no income from the farm that summer, he said, therefore in order to stay afloat, he took $500 of the school funds. He said he had taken smaller sums for private use in previous emergencies, but did so with the knowledge of the other members of the school board.

When he took the larger amount, he said, it was with no intention of keeping it.

The first man of the trio was arrested by Patrolman Herbert Kapp Saturday night on complaint of women who said he had tried to become unduly familiar with them during the shopping rush at the P. W. Wornworth store. The other two were arrested by Detective John D. Val Sunday night in front of the Bijou, where they were said to have been annoying girls.

SINGER BACK IN SCHOOL TO TAKE UP ENGLISH

Detroit—Madame Columbo Arata, dramatic soprano, can read music at sight, no matter how difficult, but she can't read English.

She can sing in a half dozen different languages, but—

To carry on a conversation with her American friends is impossible.

"So, my mother decided to go to school," says her 17-year-old daughter.

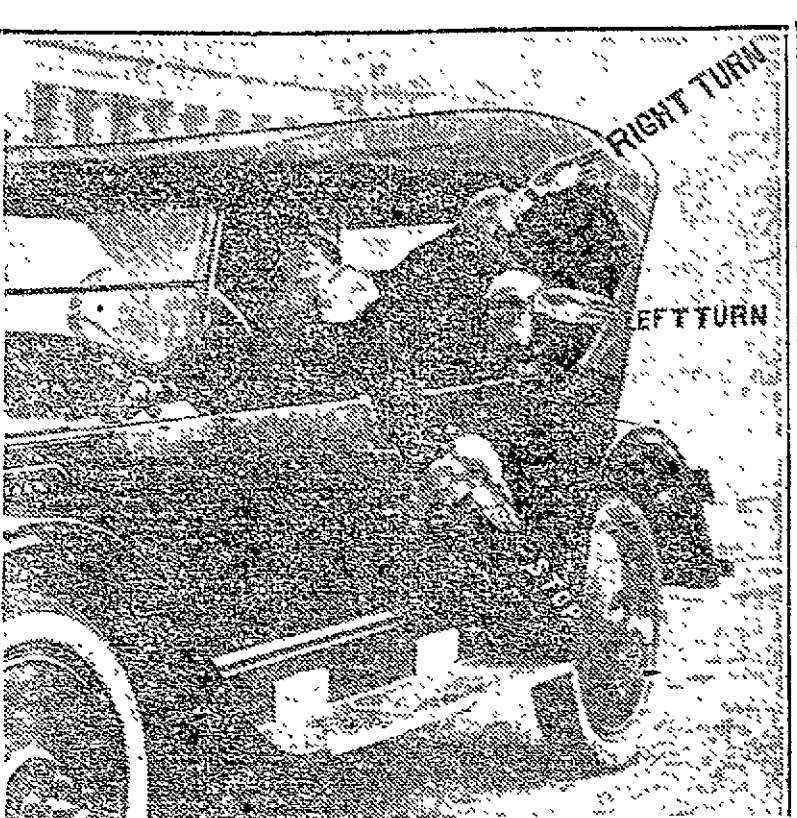

At the Bishop School, along with the toddlers, who are just learning to spell, and read and write, Madame Arata, 37, mother of six children, at tenor classes. She is not ashamed to go to school. She tackles the same problems given six-year-olds.

A daughter of Miss Mrs. Arata was given every advantage toward a musical education in her home town of Genoa. She might have remained in Italy and reached the peaks of fame to which so many are striving. But she was more interested in her big family and in America.

"It will not be long until she is graduated," says her daughter.

"Mother is doing fine at school, and of course, we help her at home. I'm sure she will be able to speak English as well as her other languages before many months have passed."

National adoption of the three-signal system for motorists may be adopted through efforts of the Hoover commission for the standardization of traffic regulations. The system shown by the woman motorist above, for stopping and left and right turns, has been chosen by authorities to be most effective.

Most Appleton Bosses On Hand To Greet Their Stenogs In The Morning

"Last to come in the morning and first to go home at night" is a popular little ditty sung about the modern girls who work in offices. It might apply to a number of the bosses also, for while there still are many men who are "on time" in the morning to greet their employees there are also a great many who come in from 8 to 11 o'clock in the morning, being "detained" on the way down to work.

Of the stenographers interviewed, about 50 per cent said they "opened up" in the morning, about 25 per cent found the employer there and the other 25 per cent said that it was about equally divided, that part of the time they reached the office first and part of the time the boss opened up.

It is noted, though, that most of the stenographers have keys to the office so that they will not have to wait for the employer to arrive. This gives the employer the opportunity to continue his slumbers in the morning, knowing that there is no waiting for him to hurry down to let waiting employees into the office or shop.

In all fairness, however, it must be said that there are a few Appleton business men who arrive at 11 o'clock in the morning, go over the mail, opened by their stenographers, have lunch and then play a game of golf in the afternoon. In Appleton there "ain't such animals."

One office girl said that her boss usually got down about 10 o'clock in the morning, but that he was "on" on the 8 o'clock. He usually makes necessary calls on his way down, she explained, and got to the office between 9 and 10 o'clock. After he arrived there the same time she did.

Another said that she always opened up and never looked for her boss until later in the morning, she added, defending, it was business that detained him on the way down.

One girl said that her boss got down to open up the store as early as 7:30, sometimes 7 o'clock and always was there by the time she arrived.

Another employer has a time clock installed in the office and manages to arrive early enough to say "good morning" first. Needless to say, nothing but business is practiced in that office.

With a few exceptions, it's usually "fifty-fifty." Part of the time the boss is there first and part of the time the stenographers arrive first. There were only one or two incidences where the boss was the only one in the office to possess a key.

INVITE COMPANY D TO LEGION SESSION

Members of Company D, 127th Infantry, will be guests of Onyx Lodge, No. 109 of the American Legion, at its meeting at 8 o'clock Monday night in Elk hall. Ryan Duffy of Fond du Lac, past state department commander.

A large attendance is expected at this meeting. Good entertainment has been secured, but the committee in charge have not divulged what it is to be.

BUTTE DES MORTS CLUB ACTS TUESDAY ON BUILDING PLAN

Harwood Urges Large Attendance at First Annual Meeting of Golfers

In order that all members may become acquainted with the developments and progress of the Butte des Morts Golf club, Eb Harwood, president, has urged them to be present at the first annual meeting at 7:30 Tuesday night in the city hall.

The club owns 160 acres of land near Mud creek on the old Brick Yard rd., and has constructed an excellent 18-hole course on the property. Although the club has been in existence but one year, the land and course are free of debt.

At Tuesday evening's meeting a committee appointed by directors last October will make a report on the club's program to provide a building to accommodate members. It is felt generally by the members, Mr. Harwood said, that a locker-house and rest room should be provided. An expression is desired from all members as to the extent to which building should be done.

The membership is made up of 330 Appleton, Neenah and Menasha persons.

ROSEBUSH TELLS OF NEW 'Y' PLAN

Meeting Is Held in Milwaukee to Discuss Operation of New National Council

Judson G. Rosebush of Appleton, a member of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., was one of the principal speakers at a meeting of state associations at Milwaukee Saturday. The meeting was attended by the president, secretary and one layman from each association and was held to apportion the national budget to the state groups for their national state and local work.

George F. Werner and F. J. Harwood were the other representatives of the local association and P. W. Maginnes represented the Kaukauna Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Rosebush explained to the meeting how the new national council of the Y. M. C. A. is to function. He told of the great program of the association in many lines and showed how the new national council will solidify the movement greatly in America. The proposed plan of John R. Mott, which would divide the world into six districts each under an associate general secretary, was taken up. The only sections which would not come under this plan are Canada, which has its own national Y. M. C. A., and central Europe, which is run by a committee.

The question of state associations was tentatively adopted. Each association will hold a board meeting for the official adoption of the budget. National council members will be assigned to Wisconsin to help local boards in this matter, Appleton Y. M. C. A. will hold its meeting within a month.

Club Quintet Loses Game To Green Bay, 25-7

The basketball team of Appleton Women's club lost to Green Bay, 25 to 7, in a game in the Appleton high school gymnasium Saturday night. Appleton also lost to the Green Bay Y. W. C. A. team when it played it earlier in the season, but the game played Saturday night was much superior to the first and exhibited considerable improvement on the part of the Appleton team.

Appleton played a good game and its team work was especially commendable.

After the game the Green Bay team and the 25 rosters who accompanied it were taken to the clubhouse for entertainment. Miss Doris Ewell, physical training instructor, said that the game was noteworthy chiefly because of the good sportsmanship displayed by both sides.

BOYS' WORK COMMITTEE OF Y. M. C. A. WILL MEET

The boys' work committee of Appleton Y. M. C. A. will meet for a discussion of problems in association work Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting also will be held for the purpose of discussing problems in association work which may be discussed at the annual national boys' work meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at Estes Park, Colo., in June, for the mutual benefit of all associations.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, grayer or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you are using your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking care to reach the scalp. It will turn the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. adv.

Yep! Sol Drove The Hog Back

"Six more weeks of hard winter" that was the message of the subterranean oracle on Monday morning. Appleton folk were kept in suspense waiting for the appearance of the groundhog. The sun that disappointed them on the day of the scheduled eclipse aroused many a faint hope early Monday morning, for it was too dark for even a poet to see his shadow. And then just when folk had begun thinking about taking off the "heavies," there blazed forth the shadow-caster about the same time it made its appearance on Jan. 24. And so Mr. Groundhog was scared back into his hole for another six weeks.

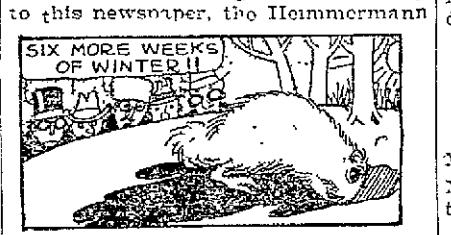

Among those searching for the zoological weather prophet Monday were two sons of Peter Holmmermann, Grand Chute. They served notice on the public that they would lay claim to any groundhog running around with a strap and chain hanging down its neck. The animal broke captivity last summer after having made its headquarters on that farm for several weeks.

In an interview given exclusively to this newspaper, the Holmmermann groundhog spots his opinion on the weather prophets who discredit the groundhog theory.

"Where do I come in?" he demanded. "When comes Candlemas, I shine from hole to hole to stage the annual prediction act. A big crowd of scientists, theologians and school boys on the sun shines. I see my shadow, and I duck back into my hole. Everybody knows that means six more weeks of winter. Or suppose it's cloudy, and I go looking for shadows. The crowd applauds because they know it means that winter is about done for."

"Then up steps a big squeeze from the weather bureau and tells me to act my size and asks when shadows had anything to do with weather, since science has proved that it is all a matter of pressure areas, neuro-dynamic readings, ocean currents, etc. And when he talks that way I just hate him. Maybe I do make mistakes once in a while, but my guess is about as good as the bureau men; what's more, people are just as likely to believe it. But let them try to predict the weather one month ahead as I do."

Fish grocery, will be retained for some time, according to Mr. Haese.

Mr. Fish has made no definite plans for the future as yet, but he may leave for California. If he can find a good location for a grocery business.

The club will have as its purpose mutual help, fellowship and promotion of Sunday school and community enterprises. Officers will be elected, a constitution adopted and the organization work started.

FRENCH DEBT ATTITUDE DISAPPOINT COOLIDGE

Reader will have an uphill job because the attitude of the French government has not increased the true faith of the present Washington administration in Europe's respect for legitimate debts and obligations.

Just now the American government refuses to recognize the Russian government because international obligations will not be fulfilled. There is no comparison, of course, between the repudiation by Russia of debts contracted by the czar's government and the unwillingness of France to make a definite proposal for payment of her debt that can be seriously regarded as the beginning of a real funding operation. But it would be misleading to give the impression that the exchange of addresses between the new ambassador and Mr. Coolidge mean anything except personal respect and good feeling toward the new envoy as an individual and toward France in general. For the unvarnished truth is President Coolidge is disappointed in French attitude and he showed it in his talks with callers. Such a situation cannot but affect the whole course of diplomacy so far as American participation in European matters is concerned.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WRITE ESSAYS TO WIN TRIP TO FAIR

Wisconsin Manufacturers Association Sponsors Another State Contest

The offer of a free trip to the 1925 state fair and the Wisconsin Industrial Products exposition at Milwaukee to a boy and girl from each county of the state will be awarded this year. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of essay contests in each county.

Last year the winners of the essay contest in Outagamie county were Viola Schilum of St. Joseph school, Appleton, and Everett Hopkins, Pioneer school, Osborn.

The contest is open to every boy and girl of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades of every public, private and parochial school. The title of the essay this year is: "Farm and Factory. Dependent Upon Each Other. Measure the Prosperity of Our Men and Women and Create Opportunity for Future Generations." The award includes an opportunity to spend two days in Milwaukee, with railroad transportation, hotel and other expenses paid by the Wisconsin Manufacturers association. The expense of one chaperon from each county, who in most cases will be the county superintendent of schools also will be borne by the association. Last year A. L. Collier, supervising teacher of this county, chaperoned the prize winners.

In addition to the trip to Milwaukee next September, a further prize of $100 is offered to the boy or girl who after making the trip as a winner in the county contest, writes the best essay on the subject. "My Impression of Wisconsin After Having Visited the 1925 Wisconsin Products Exposition." Arrangements for the contest are in charge of John Callahan, state superintendent of schools; E. G. Doudna, secretary of the Wisconsin Teachers association, and George F. Kull, former Appleton newspaper man and present secretary of the Wisconsin Manufacturers association.

Rules governing the contest are: Essays must be written legibly, or typewritten if possible, on only one side of 8 1/2 by 11 inch paper, no essay to exceed 1,500 words; essays not to be rolled; no name or other mark of identification to be written on the essay itself, but entered on an accompanying letter; essays to be sent to A. G. Moating, county superintendent of schools, before May 15. The prize winners will be announced after July 1.

STAGE And SCREEN

"IF I MARRY AGAIN" IS AT THE ELITE

"If I Marry Again," which was screened for the first time today at the Elite theatre, deals with an age old question in a new interesting manner. In it is shown the contrast between the successful business man who is a failure in his domestic life and the failure who makes his home life a place of ideal happiness.

Doris Kenyon is seen in the leading role in "If I Marry Again," and others in the cast include such screen favorites as Lloyd Hughes, Anna Q. Nilsson, Frank Mayo, Hobart Bosworth, Myrtle Stedman and Baby Dorothy Brock. John Francis Dillon, whose work in "Flaming Youth" and "Lilies of the Field," carved for him a niche in the directorial hall of fame, directed the picture under Earl Hudson's personal supervision.

In its revelation of the hard and fast traditions of the self-appointed American aristocracy, "If I Marry Again" will surprise many movie goers.

"LILY OF THE DUST" IS POLA'S LATEST PARAMOUNT

Who was the beautiful woman who smiled bravely while her stern-looking husband, clad in the uniform of an officer of his rank, slowly closed his fingers in vice-like grip over her bare arm?

Diners crowding the tables of a fashionable cafe in a European city who witnessed this little act of cruelty exhausted their imaginations in speculation concerning the identity of the pair. When the woman, superb in a gown of black velvet, rose from the table, all eyes followed her as she swept from the room.

The scene occurs in "Lily of the Dust," Pola Negri's latest starring picture for Paramount produced by Dimitri Buchowetzki and coming to the Appleton Theater, starting Monday.

Pola plays the role of the wife, and Noah Beery that of the officer. The story which lies behind this little tragedy in the dining room is one of the most dramatic and fascinating which has ever been made into a motion picture film.

Heading the strong cast playing in support of the star are Ben Lyon, Beery and Raymond Griffith. Others are William J. Kelly and Jeanette Daudet. Paul Bern wrote the screen play.

BORROWED HUSBANDS

There is a novel idea behind the plot of "Borrowed Husbands," which will be shown at the New Bijou today, Tuesday and Wednesday, that increases its entertaining value and offers food for thought. The title gives the keynote to the whole plot which all titles should; but few do. A devoted wife is separated from her husband for a few months and as all of their set are married and require husbands as escorts the young wife decides to borrow a few while her husband is away.

The idea appears a good one on the surface and Nancy finds many friends who are willing to loan their husbands. Then complications set in.

JOB INSURANCE BILL UP AGAIN

Racine Senator Introduces Bill to Compel Payment to Idle Employees

By Associated Press

Madison—An unemployment bill, introduced in the legislature by Senator Max W. Hecht of Racine, is virtually the same as the one which was introduced in the preceding legislature and which was known as the Huber bill. It covers employers with six or more workers, but farmers are specifically exempted and special provision is made in case of seasonal trades. Workers who have an income of $1,500 or more from employment other than manual labor are not covered by the law. No benefits are also allowed if the unemployment is the result of a strike or lockout, dismissal due to misconduct, voluntary lay-off, or some unavoidable cause.

The bill provides that in all other cases unemployment benefits begin on the third day after a claim has been filed. In case of total unemployment the compensation allowed is one dollar a day for adults and 50 cents a day for minors. No person can get more a week than an amount greater than 65 per cent of his regular weekly wages. The total compensation is also limited to thirteen weeks in the year. In all other respects, such as provisions for insurance by employers and the administration of the scheme, the bill is very similar to the workmen's compensation act which is now in operation in the state. The cost of the plan is borne by the employer.

Wisconsin is not the only state to have a bill before the legislature on unemployment insurance. A similar bill was introduced recently in the Illinois legislature, and movements to introduce such bills are also afoot in Michigan and Minnesota. It is reported.

STUDENT SENATE ELECTS CHEERLEADER AT COLLEGE

John Wilcox, Appleton, was elected cheer-leader for the remainder of this year at a meeting of Lawrence college student senate on Friday.

Two important measures were considered in relation to the "L" club composed of wearers of the varsity "L." A committee composed of A. C. Denney, athletic director; Fred Trezise, secretary of the board; W. C. Rehbein, "Eddie" Kotal and Raymond Holdridge was appointed to work with the "L" club to make it a stronger organization, and to insure its survival.

It was decided to furnish certificates of service to wearers of the "L." Mr. Trezise is working on the plans for the certificate now.

which form a photoplay of well balanced emotions, light patches of humor, touches of pathos, intense dramatic situations with an occasional thrill. Florence Vidor heads the cast with Rockcliffe Fellows, Claire Du Bray, Eara Williams and Robert Gordon.

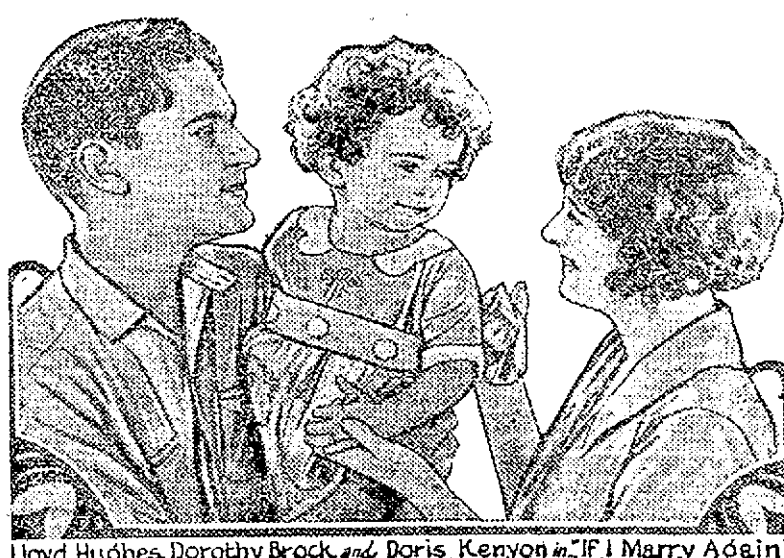

"THE TARRINGTON BOYS" Glenn Hunter and Ben Lyon, once known as "the Tarrington Boys," met in the Paramount studio in Hollywood for the first time in five years when Hunter arrived from New York to star in James Cruze' latest production "Merton of the Movies."

The sobriquet, "Tarrington Boys" was given to the two players in New York in 1918 when Lyon played the lead in "Seventeen" and Glenn Hunter played the title role in "Clarence" and "Seventeen" were phenomenal successes. The first ran for forty-two weeks and the second for thirty-two weeks in New York.

Hunter continued to portray roles similar to the one in which he made his first success. Lyon, who succeeded in heavier parts, heads the cast playing in support of Pola Negri in the Dimitri Buchowetzki production, "Lily of the Dust." Hunter in "Merton of the Movies," with Viola Dana, featured in support, comes to the Appleton Theater on Thursday.

MISSION WORK MUST START AT HOME, SPEAKERS CLAIM

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The place of foreign missions in the church at home was developed by speakers at Saturday's session of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. The Rev. Dr. Hugh T. Kerr of Pittsburgh deprecated what he declared was the present day motivation of "fear" in church support of missions.

The Rev. Dr. Stewart Herman of Harrisburg, Pa., told the conference church missionary work was weakened by the fact that the average congregation was only "approximately 50 per cent loyal" in attendance at services.

Presenting the layman's viewpoint, Robert A. Doan of Columbus, O., declared "practicing Christianity at home is more essential than preaching it abroad. Any program for foreign missions, he added, is 'useless unless Christian laymen rid themselves of race prejudice which often amounts to hatred."

RADIO PROGRAMS

Leading figures of the musical world, including Metropolitan opera stars and internationally famous concert artists, will be heard over radio in programs comprising the most famous of compositions. Neither the names of the artists nor the numbers rendered will be announced and cash prizes totaling $5,000 a month will be presented to the listeners guessing the largest number of compositions and artists correctly. Contestants also will be required to write a hundred-word essay on a subject to be announced each month. The contests will be conducted on a monthly basis, a new series of selections and artists being scheduled at the end of every fourth week. February's programs will be broadcast on the third Tuesday, tenth, seventeenth and twenty-fourth and the contests probably will be continued in March. A complete list of compositions from which selections will be made and also the famous artists and organizations eligible for the contest will be sent out soon. Stations broadcasting the programs are W42, KYW, WGY, KPRN, KDKA and WRC.

WHERE DIVIDENDS GO
It is a commonplace that what is called a "democratization" has taken place in American industry during the past few years via the scheme of smaller stock units and wider stock distribution, so that there were 14,100,000 stockholders in the United States in 1923 as contrasted to only 4,400,000 in 1900. But a frequent error has been to assume that despite the growth in the number of stockholders, the larger amount of stock is still held by very wealthy men — the "capitalist" class.

This was true in 1916, when the group of taxpayers with incomes above $20,000 were discovered to have received annually 79.3 per cent of all the dividends reported. But by 1921 the percentage had shifted so that 53.2 per cent of all dividends were received by men, women and children with incomes below $20,000. Most of the money from American industry is going into the pockets of the small stockholders. And the tendency is an increasing, not a diminishing one: against it only one industrialist of any importance is standing out today. And that is Henry Ford.

In America's list of new stockholders are two classes whose representation by the thousand is really prophetic—the consumer and the employee. When consumers buy stock of the company from which they are receiving service, and employees that of the firm for which they work, traditional relations and traditional antipathies are upset. Social strata based upon income from wages and income from dividends are merged and disappear. It has been suggested that when the movement has sufficiently proceeded, we shall have all the promised benefits of socialism without the disadvantages of its governmental forms.

INCOME TAX PUZZLES
For wealthy taxpayers accustomed to calling in a lawyer or an income tax expert the new income tax returns present no particular problem. Small taxpayers who must do their own work will find them greater puzzles than ever. This year's enlarged questionnaires for earned net incomes under $5,000 have twenty-seven items on the front page and four more on the back, in addition to the address and affidavit.

What everybody says he wants is greater simplicity in tax returns. But at the same time everybody is demanding further exemptions, each of which adds a couple of items—one for a statement of the income to be exempted, one for the subtraction of that exemption. To simplify the filing of returns it is necessary, first, to remove as many as possible of the exemptions now existing; second, to reduce the number of items which are merely a taking of census for the guidance of tax makers and tax collectors.

This is by no means an easy task or a reliable one. For example, removal of the exemption on state, municipal and federal bonds would actually increase the number of items on the return; for it would be necessary to schedule the amount of bonds held of the old tax-free issues as well as the new taxable type.
About the only substantial step the government could take for simplification would be the revolutionary one of trusting the public to make its own deductions and requiring returns only of net income. To some extent, of course, a reduction in the number of items might be effected by requiring only a blanket statement of gross without regard to the sources of income. But does any one, even the small taxpayer, really want the government's opportunities to check up on tax dodging to be reduced in this way?

Probably the earned income taxpayer's return is as simple as is safe. Among business men there is a sentiment that the business and professional returns might be improved both in clarity and brevity.

THE DAY OF THE CAN
Canners from all America, meeting in Cincinnati set up a great exhibit proving that while a few years ago canning was confined almost entirely to beans, peas, corn and tomatoes, it now includes almost every kind of edible—fruits, vegetables or meats.

The transition of the American housewife from a cook to a can opener may be explained by women's suffrage and the dozens of women's clubs attendance upon which is possible only by cutting out the hours spent over the kitchen stove and warming something instead. It may be explained by the kitchenette apartment in which too much cooking is the equivalent of suffocation. It may be explained by the movie, or by the effect of the war. But here it is, at any rate, and in great cities here to stay.

Possibly it might be found that before canners started canning everything under the sun people consumed about as great a proportionate quantity of canned goods as they do now, but confined themselves to a few staples, over and over again to the family's disgust. If that is so then the change is one for the good, and in the interest of variety. Certain it is that the increased canning of his products has been of tremendous benefit to the American farmer, whose surplus now has a much improved market.

OYSTER AND COW
A number of deaths from typhoid have been traced to infected oysters. The psychological consequence has been an immediate assurance on the part of many Americans that all oysters are dangerous. The few contaminated sources have been multiplied by rumor and imagination to "all the oyster beds on the Atlantic coast." That is the way fear works. It is a fast spreader, blind and oblivious to reason.

If the same attention devoted by the public this year to the oyster supply were turned to the genuine problem of freeing the state's milk production completely and permanently of the source of a far more serious plague—tuberculosis—we should have that grave problem much more nearly solved. No county barriers should stand in the way of this important state task.

BRAINS
Half of our population are morons—some 50 millions of them, and an additional 30 millions have intelligence no higher than a normal child of 12 years. So assert experts, quoted in the Illinois Medical Journal.

It is a sorry picture. And it is a false one. The standard of intelligence of the common people is several times as high as some of the "experts" believe. Any one who has mixed with the public knows this is true. Trouble is that intelligence tests usually grade people according to ability to think fast rather than soundly. Intelligence is more than quick wits.

SURPRISE.
WHEN you come home at the end of a tedious day and your work's tired away for the night, on the homeward path you will find your way while you're musing on a surprise.
At the moment, meal you just peered at; by the all business men will say, it isn't the surprise that makes a hit, as a rule, with me or you.
We're kinda glad when the day's at end, it takes a treat in your hand, rare. We don't know, we can't depend on the food that's waiting for us.
It's home, that's all, through the appetite, it's hunger that's in us only, it's fun to guess what we'll get at home in the regular home-cooked style.

The table's set and we think our lives. There's eat, as all men would. Each one we meet we new surprise, and it's always there, just as good.

Common sense is what makes a fellow citizen a citizen.
Concentrated education is about the drinking tea instead of eating food.
The thing about a cold weather is you don't have to stop to get a coat or your nose.
Reading the wrong kind of books is just the same as associating with the wrong kind of people.
Success is living with a man who is better than you and must.
Truth is changeable like the weather, and true because the weather changes, but it's not true because it's not weather.
People spend years looking for things to be happy in without realizing it is inside.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. GREETINGS TO MYXONEUROTICS.
Without antipathy for mucous colitis or mucous colic sufferers (myxoneurosis is another name for this condition), provided they do not attempt to debate with me the symptomatology or therapeutics of the neurosis, I repeat that I know absolutely nothing about the cause, nature or treatment of any individual case of mucous colitis and I am positively and obstinately unwilling to learn. By a stroke of fate I encountered a very bad case of intestinal myxoneurosis early in my career, which disilluminated me, to put it mildly. So if you are in any way interested in mucous colic, pray do not ask me how a person with such an ailment acts. All I know is my early patient acted like the devil and had a bag of the meanest tricks which were much too many for an honest, young doctor to cope with. Fate followed the patient far. The doctor, to whose tender mercies I turned her over, shortly after announced that he was limiting his practice to surgery exclusively. He said he was through giving clients his very blood and that he now intended to shed some of theirs. And the doctor to whom he willed my old patient is now running a sanitarium where, he says, he can call patients neurotics and they like it.

We shall now proceed to tell what well folks ought to know in relation to interesting physiology. In nearly every instance constipation is artificially induced by unwarranted and unnatural interference with the peristaltic mechanism, which, as we pointed out in a previous talk, is naturally perfectly controlled by the balance automatically maintained between the drive of sympathetic and the steady restraint of the vagus or autonomic part of the nervous system.

2. Of the two evils, physics and injections, the latter is by far the worse.
3. Indigestible roughage, such as the fibrous material in fruits and vegetables, the seeds of various fruits, the skins of various fruits and vegetables, the cellulose of wheat bran, should be a considerable part of the regular diet of every well person. Prejudices against eating these things are due to ignorance.
4. Strictly within normal bounds the frequency of intestinal evacuation may be three a week to three a day.

5. The only concern an individual should have about "regulating the bowels" is to heed the call of nature.
6. A prolific cause of hemorrhoids (piles) and of eczema (inflammation of the colon) is the habitual use of so-called "vegetable" cathartic concoctions which invariably depend for their cathartic effect upon crude irritants of the aloes class.

7. If the great army of misguided victims of the "vegetable" cathartics could be directed to their hygienic habits of life for a few weeks, the majority of them would have to admit that nature is kind.

8. Plain wheat as it comes from the threshing, though by no means a perfect food, is nevertheless a more healthful food than anything derived, prepared or manufactured from wheat. Eaten raw or cooked, entire or crushed or ground, it is a desirable item in the routine dietary of children and adults.

9. No wholesome food should be omitted from the dietary on the ground that it is "binding" for no food is so, though some items are more laxative than others.

10. Auto-intoxication is a far fetched theory which should never worry folks.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Bovine Idea.
It is of course easy to deny the existence of bovine syphilis, but I should like to have your proof that there is no such condition. Perhaps the standard medical books of today contain no information on the subject, and therefore in order to understand this disease one must do careful research work in order to deny that such a condition exists. (M. Jeanette W.)

Answer.—Proving a negative is a pretty tall order. Isn't it about time that a case of "bovine syphilis" was submitted to the observation of some reputable scientific authority, a pathologist of standing in the community?

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.
Monday, Feb. 5, 1900.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lawler, Will Kamps and Mrs. C. F. Smith were planning to leave this week for Los Angeles, Calif.

Rhetoricals were held at the First ward school Friday for the first time. Those who took part in the program were Arnold Knuppel, Mabel Kuehnstedt, Otto Hoepfner, Adeline Dietrich, Catherine Ming and Mattie Pond.

C. S. Dickinson, cashier of the Commercial bank, declared to a reporter that more than $100,000 in currency had been sent by local banks to Milwaukee and Chicago banks during the last 30 or 40 days.

Among the Appleton heirs of P. A. Murphy, a resident of Boston whose fortune totaled $150,000, were Mrs. Ernest Otto, Mrs. John Ryan and Miss Anna Murphy. Mrs. George Kispert of Kaukauna also was listed as an heir.

City officials were engaged today in moving from their old quarters on College-ave to their offices in the new city hall building on Oneida-ave.
The funeral of Mrs. Arnold Peerenboom, this morning was one of the largest ever held at St. Mary church. The bearers were Peter Heid, Joseph Rossmel, Henry Kamps, Anton Rechner, John Langenberg and James McMillan.

TEN YEARS AGO.
Monday, Feb. 1, 1915.

A total of $112,556 or nearly one-third of the total tax collection of the year was taken in by the city treasurer Saturday, which was the last day for making the payments.

Business were running an hour and a half late due to a severe storm during the night.
At a meeting of Fox River Valley Fair association Saturday the following officers were elected: President, W. Jamison; vice president, Charles Simpson; treasurer, J. J. Hauert.

John was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnston, Locust-st.
Law Rechner, accompanied by his nephew, Robert Rechner, was spending a few days visiting in Milwaukee.

Howard O'Keefe and daughter, Katherine, left today for a three month trip to the western coast.
Senator H. M. Culbertson of Outagamie co. introduced a bill in the state legislature creating superintendents for rural schools and providing for appointment of supervisory teachers.

John J. Monaghan, Winnebago-st., was surprised by a number of friends last evening in honor of his birthday anniversary. Present at the party were won by Ben Steinberg and Chris Roemer.
It is a blank it is because you regarded it that yesterday.

GANGWAY FOR HOLIDAYS

Well, February arrived according to schedule. And don't forget that newspapers predicted it. Give them credit for that. February has always been noted as a month of holidays. It usually follows immediately after Jan. 31. That was the last day that folks could pay their taxes and "get a 'Thank you' out of it. After Feb. 1 you get soaked a 2 per cent penalty.
And today is the day that Mr. Groundhog holds his coming out party. He must have a lot of friends in this town, for look at all the nice clouds they prepared for him!
Lincoln's birthday comes on Feb. 12 this year. We'd like to suggest that August Brandt observe the day in decorating his show windows with Lincoln cars.

If you'd like to receive a lot of valentines on Feb. 14, start now writing a lot of nasty articles to The People's Forum and to Heard, Seen and Imagined.

Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday, may lose some of its old time glamor or as the result of the revelation of that truth producing drug. Save up a few good ones for that day.
Be sure to have all the ashes taken out of your cellar before Feb. 25, for that is Ash Wednesday, and that is when you like the groundhog become a shuttin for about six or seven weeks.

Don't forget the Auto show which has been set for Feb. 21 to 23. It was only natural to have this exposition reserved for the month of holidays.
And the greatest holiday of all—Feb. 29. You'll have to look hard for it this year, because it is like one of those Leaping Lenas that the Lawrence boys lead around when there is no snow on the ground.

It seems that the solar eclipse has clouded the issue this year. With another noteworthy eclipse taking place today, you may or may not take the groundhog's word for it that spring is on its way.

That is a safe prediction always. In fact, we have just gotten a telegram from Cuba to the effect that spring, which has been spending the winter there, has already packed up its belongings. She is expected to arrive about the latter part of this winter. "I didn't want to leave the United States," she wired, "but everybody cussed me something terrible last year. But now I hear I'm forgiven, and the people want me back."

The market reporter informs us that the groundhog market is rather sluggish today. There seems to be dearth of shadows.

Here's a queer one. A weather forecaster in Chicago quit his job because the climate didn't agree with him. We suppose the people made it too hot for him. The groundhog ought to learn a lesson from that.

The editorial staff of this newspaper enjoyed a "smoker" Saturday afternoon. That is the male members of the staff enjoyed it, while the rest endured it. The question was discussed as to whether we should publish on Groundhog day. Well, here's your paper.

World's News Told In Brief, Simple Style

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Attorney General Irlan F. Stone may have to wait a few months before taking his federal supreme court seat. In the end he's pretty sure to get it.
It looks now as if this congress might refuse to confirm him, but in the next senate the administration will be stronger. The president simply will appoint him again and that this time his name will go through is a fairly safe prediction.
Of course this is assuming that nothing comes out seriously to his disadvantage in the debate over him, which seems certain. The general opinion is that the attorney general is a good enough lawyer to have kept his record straight.

THE ACCUSATIONS

Both of the two complaints against Stone relate to questions of court jurisdiction.
J. A. Ownbey was sued by J. P. Morgan & Co. in Colorado. He says Stone, as Morgan lawyer, by legal hokus-pokus switched the case to Delaware, and somehow Ownbey lost it in the transfer, as a plea disappears in a shell game.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler was indicted in Montana last fall, charged with accepting a legal fee he wasn't entitled to while in office. Now Stone has summed him before a Washington grand jury. Wheeler's friends suspect the plan is to get the Montana case into the Washington courts, where maybe the Wheelers say, he would stand less chance than in his home state. Another version is that the Washington investigation relates to something altogether different from the Montana matter.

BITTER FEELING
The bitters can probably would not delay Stone's confirmation would but political and personal issues of such bitterness are involved in the Wheeler situation that the combined Democrats and Progressives may be able to veto the appointment for the rest of this session.

LONG RANGE
Louis Marin and William E. Borah are carrying on an inter-parliamentary debate at unusually long range. Marin, in the French chamber of deputies, declared it perfectly ridiculous to expect France to pay her war debts—she saved civilization, and now those she saved it for are asking her to pay for doing it.
Borah, in the United States senate, replied that France needed help to save herself, that she got it and now she doesn't want to repay what she borrowed from those who came to her rescue—if she won't settle, all right, but it will be plain repudiation of a just obligation.

THE ECLIPSE
Astronomers say the recent eclipse advanced the science of the heavens 1000 years.
Better instruments were available than ever before, aviation played its part and at most points where the shadow fell weather conditions were ideal.

TOO CONSERVATIVE
Leon Trotsky has lost his job as Russian war minister. The communists who put him out declared he was getting conservative.

Wives may be bought on the installment plan in Pondoland, in southeast Africa.
Eighteen billion stamps will have been used in the United States mail in 1924, it is estimated.

Adventures In The Library
By ARNOLD MULDER

THE JUMP FROM COURTSHIP TO MARRIAGE
At a recent convention of the Michigan State Library association a speaker who was comparing the fiction of the present with that of the past pointed out that one of the chief differences between the novels of today and of yesterday is that formerly the fiction writers were in the habit of taking their characters through courtship to marriage and leaving them there, while the novelist of today is likely to deal with married life in his books.
There are exceptions to this rule as to all other rules. There have been novels in the past, great novels as well as important ones, that dealt with married life; and there are a considerable number of novels today, also of both kinds, that do not deal with married life but that take the characters through the period of courtship. But as a broad general distinction between the two periods the difference remarked on by the convention speaker is a real one. During the last quarter of a century the life-span of fiction characters has unquestionably been greatly lengthened.

BROADER FIELD BETTER
Perhaps only professional fiction writers will fully appreciate how tremendous a gain has been effected through the change. The casual reader does not pay much attention to the technique of the fiction with which he whiles away an idle hour; but even the casual reader can see that if all life is interesting then it is peculiarly foolish for the men and women whose business it is to make this plain to limit themselves to a very few years of life. The years of courtship are for the best part still years of immaturity and there is almost invariably more interest in a full grown mind than in an immature mind. Hence, all other things being equal, a novel about the later years of a man or woman is likely to be more interesting than one about the courtship years.
But the writer is the one who most heartily blesses the fates for the change. There is many a writer who does not care a hang about the human mating season and who finds it impossible to confine himself within such narrow limits. Perhaps he is fascinated by the intellectual reactions of the later years, or by the social problems suggested by the married state. In the old days he was forced more or less to suppress his natural interests and conform to the custom of writing about boys and girls in the flapper stage. Today a writer can follow his natural bent and treat whichever period of life he knows most about or the one to which his inclination as an artist leads him.

IF STEVENSON KNEW
Frequently the writers of an older day chafed under the restraints that were imposed on them by the public and by custom. Stevenson, romantic, though he was, bitterly complains of the walls that surround the novelist. Had he lived today, there is very little doubt but that he would have produced far different books from those he did write.

The novel of married life as distinguished from the novel of courtship is as a general thing the more interesting to the reader who takes fiction seriously as a sort of laboratory of life. It is not safe to make statements too positive on this score, because a genius will overturn any statement that may be made, but I am speaking of books as a class. Novels reflect life and those that are confined to courtship exclusively reflect only a small segment of life, while the novels of married life use a large canvas.
The theory of the old day of course was that the main thing in life was concentrated in the few years or months before marriage. That is still the theory of those writers of today who confine themselves to the courtship period, whether they are so definitely or not. But most writers who genuinely count want all the mental elbow room they can get and want all of life for their field.

Q. How should a widow's mail be addressed? S. C.
A. Upon her visiting cards a widow retains her husband's Christian names and her mail should be addressed in the same way.
Q. Where is the quotation "Warmest welcome at an Inn" found? M. C.
A. It is from Shenstone's "Written at an Inn at Henley."
Q. In what county is the geographic center of New York State? W. C. N.
A. The Geological Survey says the geographic center is in Madison County, 6 miles south-southeast of Oneida.
Q. What is the incident back of the name "Little Church Around the Corner"? S. F.
A. George Holland, a popular comedian died on December 29, 1870. The clergyman first appealed to refused to bury him because he was an actor, but directed the applicant to "The Little Church Around the Corner." Dr. Houghton, then rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, immediately consented and his action in the matter drew many kindly feelings toward his church, particularly on the part of the members of the profession.
Q. How Corpus Christi, Texas, been rebuilt since the tidal wave destroyed it? M. J. B.
A. The town of Corpus Christi was not wholly destroyed by the tidal wave. The section that was damaged, however, has been rebuilt. A sea wall is being built at the present time and Congress has appropriated $1,500,000 for a harbor to be built at Corpus Christi. It will take about three years to complete this.

Workshop Is Planning Its Biggest Play

Womens Club Has Built Effective Dramatic Corps and Will Stage "Daddy-Long-Legs"

The Dramatic Workshop, the group which is staging "Daddy-Long-Legs" in Fischers Appleton theater Feb. 9 under auspices of Appleton Womens club, was one of the first groups organized when the club first functioned, and has enlarged rapidly during the several years of its existence.

The group originally was known as the Drama club, working under the direction of Mrs. Constance Johnson Schneider and Mrs. Frank Taber, Jr. The most elaborate production given by this group was "The Rose of Plymouth Town," in Lawrence memorial chapel.

Later, another group which called itself the Dramatic Workshop was organized. After a short time both groups joined under the name, Dramatic Workshop of Appleton Womens club.

The first productions were a series of one-act plays. Many of the members took part in "The Tale of the Fox," the elaborate production presented by the club proper last year in Lawrence chapel. The advice given by Mrs. Charlotte Chorpensing of Chicago, who directed "The Tale of the Fox," benefited the group greatly, it is felt.

Within the last year the group decided to admit men as well as women and girls and demonstrated the success of this move with two plays, "Mr. Antonio," and "Mr. Sampson," in which both men and women took part.

The biggest production given by this group, since "The Rose of Plymouth Town," will be "Daddy-Long-Legs" next week Monday.

"The group is truly named workshop," Miss Martha Chandler, who coaches the players, said, "for an attempt is made to do creative work along the lines of character development, building up plays, scenery and costumes. We do not take what some one else has told us, but try to work out each problem alone." A checkup on the sale of tickets for "Daddy-Long-Legs" will take place at the clubhouse between 5:30 and 8:30 Monday night. All members of teams are expected to report on their sales at this time.

This new way works wonders

on cloudy teeth

Modern science, by perfecting a new way of combating the stubborn film that covers teeth, now opens the road to whiter teeth, safely.

THAT cloudy teeth, yellowish, discolored teeth can be made whiter is now an accepted fact. Foremost dentists of the world are widely urging this new method. You can have cleaner, prettier teeth if you will start today.

This is accomplished by combating a viscons film that covers teeth. A stubborn, hard to remove film that old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel this film. Under it are the clear, attractive teeth you envy in others. Combat it, and your teeth become many shades whiter—more glistening. This offers you a 10-day test free. Mail the coupon.

The great enemy of teeth Film is the great enemy of teeth beauty. And a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the common cause of pyorrhea. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film.

Ask your druggist or mail the coupon for Pepsodent. Don't expect the same results from old time dentifrices. Begin beautifying your teeth today.

HOME INFLUENCES NEEDED TO STEM VICE, SAYS PRIEST

Father Kolbe Says in Sermon That Bad Grow Worse, Good Grow Better

New London—The Rev. Father Otto Kolbe, pastor of the Most Precious Blood church, preached Sunday morning on "Optimism and Pessimism."

"The optimist," said Father Kolbe "says that the world is getting better. The pessimist says that it is getting worse. Both are right, the world is getting both better and worse at the same time. The world at the present time is more civilized than it ever was and is rapidly advancing mechanically, medically and mentally."

Morally the world is also improving. There are more saints today than there ever were, and more virtue than ever before, but there is also more crime, vice, scandal and lust. Therefore, we see that we have two classes of people, the good and bad and the good are getting better while the bad are getting worse. There are like two railroad trains, both started the same point, but heading in opposite directions. The further they go, the further they become apart.

"Our prisons today are filled with criminals, and there are many more criminals outside prison walls than there are in. Many of the inmates of our penal institutions today are well educated and very brilliant men. They have turned all their knowledge, learning and craft in the wrong direction. Thus we see that all our progress in inventions and advanced methods today, in the hands of those who use them wrongly, are helping to make the world worse. Our great mechanical inventions today help to make great wars, more terrible and more abhorrent than ever before.

"There are more saints in the world today than there ever were before, but at the same time, there are more persons, more vice, more roadhouses and pavilions, where vice and crime abound, than there ever were before."

Here the Rev. Father Kolbe read a clipping taken from a recent issue of a newspaper, and written by Judge De A. Stolen, of Dane county, who said that conditions and elements prevailing at the University of Wisconsin were positively shocking and abominable. Judge Stolen said that there were drunken and exhausted girls, carried out in blankets from men's rooming houses in Madison, put in taxis during the early hours of the morning, and sent home. He claimed that 60 per cent of the men at the University of Wisconsin were drunk or were now afflicted with disease. He ended up by saying that "there is something radically wrong with our American home."

"When confronted with these facts," said the Rev. Father Kolbe, "the optimists say that the world is bad, but is bound to improve, even though we have to sacrifice one generation. The pessimists say that the world will never reform, but will keep on steadily growing worse."

"One of the great wrongs in the world today is the fact that children have ceased to obey their fathers and their mothers. They roam the streets at all hours of the day and night, and describe home as a place to go when they have no place else to go. The haunts of the younger generation today are the worst ever. The associations between boys and girls in our schools today is discouraging! Educational authorities of today claim that boys and girls in school must be allowed to go together in order to keep them in school and give them an education they need."

"Must we make our sons and daughters moral prostitutes in order to make them mental prodigies? No, no, no, we must have education, as it is only a high degree of education, along with some exceedingly good legislation that will eliminate the crime and vice from the world."

FORD RUNS AMUCK, STRIKES CHILD AND CRASHES INTO BANK

Machine Left Running by Clifford Donor Makes Exciting Trip

New London—Local residents had a laugh at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon when a Ford touring car belonging to Clifford Donor, ran amuck in North Water-st, struck a child and damaged a building.

Mr. Donor had left the Ford parked with the motor running, in front of Sullivan's barber shop. He had just returned from a long drive on slushy country roads, and water splashed onto the emergency brake had frozen, permitting the brake to slip down.

When he came out of the barber shop, where he had remained only two minutes, the "pride of the family" was gone. Looking up the street he saw something resembling a jack rabbit hopping down the sidewalk, and recognized it to be his Ford. Looking at citizens stood staring at the Ford tearing down the sidewalk, and heading towards home. A small Pullman girl was knocked down in front of the Style shop. She was chewing taffy at the time and her mother rushed up and pulled the taffy out of her mouth so the child could tell whether she was hurt.

"Doc" Clark, who was across the street in his restaurant, the Koffee Kitchen, saw the mother pull the taffy out of the child's mouth and thought her teeth had been knocked out. He promptly rushed across the street, grabbed the girl and ran with her to Dr. Monsted's office, in the next block. Upon examination, Dr. Monsted was unable to find a thing wrong with the girl.

Meanwhile the Ford had rammed on, just missing an air pump, two street lights, and the Style shop's windows. It finally bumped into the front of the Farmer's State bank, where it mangled the bricks, bent its own front axle and the radiator and caved in its fender.

Fight That Acid

Around your teeth—Do it with magnesia

That is all-important. Fermenting food forms acid around and between the teeth. Acid causes tooth decay. Magnesia neutralizes acid.

But use a super-magnesia—Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—standard with dentists for 50 years. Use it in a tooth paste—in Phillips' Dental Magnesia. That's a concentrated form designed to force between the teeth and stay.

All helps in one

Phillips' Dental Magnesia contains 16 ingredients. It meets six great requirements in one application.

We have adopted what is called the Formula of 1924. The best that men know for a tooth paste. Four great organizations combined to create it, to meet all the ideas of high modern authorities.

It is based on magnesia—on Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in concentrated form. But it also contains three other antacids. It penetrates between the teeth—enters the crevices. And acids perish at its touch.

It places on guard night and day in your mouth four great foes of acid, to fight it as it forms. There is nothing else so vital to your teeth.

Manila. — The appointment of a Philippine government representative on the Pacific coast of the United States to look after the interests of Filipinos, especially young immigrants who are seeking employment to support themselves while at college, is under consideration by insular officials in view of the precarious situation of several hundred such students.

Manuel S. Rustia, Filipino commercial agent in Seattle, reports that no fewer than 700 Filipino students have arrived at that port during the last two months.

"This is becoming a serious problem for the Filipino community here," said Mr. Rustia, and the difficulties are expected to increase during the coming winter.

SIR AUCKLAND GEDDES

now in control of Great Britain may put into force before the summer. It will be one of the most sensational peace-time moves ever attempted by a conservative government. It will be prompted by the necessities of a very serious situation, and it will have tremendous repercussions in the United States.

The English pound sterling is at last looking the American dollar in the face on practically equal terms. The resumption of the gold standard is not far off. But business is still bad. More than a million people are still drawing unemployment insurance. The price of necessities still mounts. People who are drawing doles and people who are drawing wages are alike having a hard time. It was thought that when the pound sterling reached par or near it, prices would go down. The reverse has been the case. Meat costs more. Bread costs more. Tea—in spite of the late Labor government taking the tax off—costs more. Faced by this, the new Conservative government recently named a royal food commission to trace the trouble.

It is headed by Sir Auckland Geddes, former ambassador to the United States.

This commission did not go very far before it became convinced that there was considerable monopolistic control of the people's food. It found evidences of combines and trusts. It ran up against reluctant and even insincere witnesses.

And now the tip is quietly going around in the commercial world, which deals with wheat, meat and tea, that the commission is going to recommend to Premier Baldwin that the government take control of those commodities.

If this is done and if the premier and parliament accept the recommendation, the machinery soon will whirr. There are experienced men in the Civil Service who know all about it. They could have the whole food machine set up and in working order within a month.

And, if it were to come into being, American markets, American grain exchanges and American food speculators would have about the liveliest times they have known since the World War raged.

When Great Britain, as purchaser for the bulk of the wheat and the meat of 45,000,000 people, came to America to buy, prices would natur-

SCULPTOR FINISHES NEW BUST OF WOODROW WILSON

This new bust of Woodrow Wilson is the work of Bryant Baker, New York sculptor. He is shown putting the finishing touches on his work.

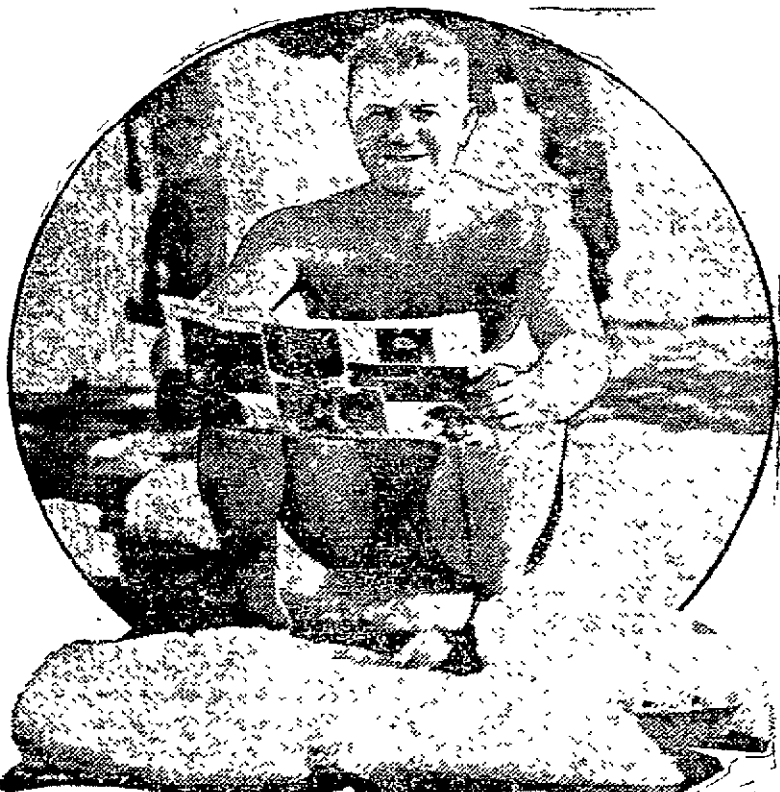

In a case which formerly belonged to Fred Allendy, New York gangster, Sheriff Earle Brown of Minneapolis found a rifle which could be discharged by a hidden spring. Brown recalled that when Allendy was being taken to New York he asked to use the cane, but the sheriff refused.

You are asked to believe that these girls—Sybil Wilson, Ruth Fallows, Helen MacDonald and Nina Byron, reading from left to right—you are asked to believe that they up and quit their jobs as show girls in the Moulin Rouge in Paris. And all because of a little difference between them and the manager over costumes. Said costumes, it seems, were strong on quality, but very weak in quantity. And the young ladies simply would not stand for it.

George Hickman, age 87, has been at the Richmond County Farm, the poorhouse at August, Ga., for 14 years. During that time he has married twice, both times to fellow inmates. Here he is shown with his latest bride of 74.

In fact, it was so hot that John A. Jaunbrat, member of the "L Street Brownies," a winter swimming organization of South Boston, Mass., felt impelled to read it on a nice cool cake of ice.

What a sweet face this glorified tomcat has when he gets his dander up. A striking photo of the fighting face of a lion when he is in a royal rage.

Bank bandits, after looting two Valley View (Tex.) banks of $10,000, started a fire which destroyed two blocks of business buildings, causing a loss of $250,000. The bandits blew open two safes, started the fire by use of a slow fuse, and escaped before the blaze was discovered. The picture shows the havoc wrought by the bandits and the fire.

The coat of arms of President Coolidge has been traced by Miss Bettie Carter, expert in genealogical research of Washington D. C., and presented to the president. She traced his ancestry back to the old Coulinge family of England.

Bungalow dwellers at Egham were compelled to leave their homes in the recent flooding of the Thames valley in England. Many of them took their furniture with them as shown in the photo.

The Princess Maria Pavlova, niece of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, has opened a fashionable embroidery shop in Paris.

This nine-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Brogdon of Atlanta, Ga., weighs just 32 pounds. Can your baby beat her?

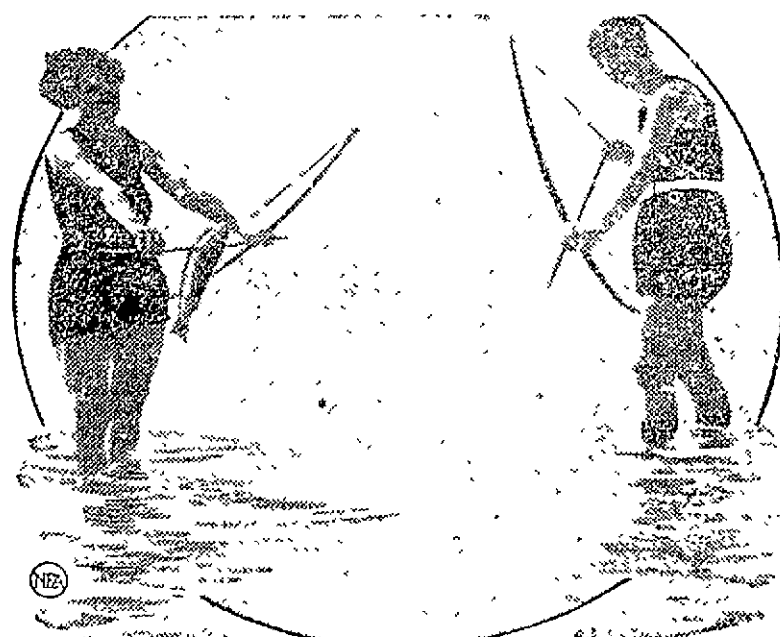

This is the first and exclusive photo of the impressive ceremony of the opening of the holy door of St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome by Pope Pius XI, who is shown in prayer a moment before passing through the portal. The rite marked the commencement of the holy year of 1925, observed throughout the Roman Catholic world.

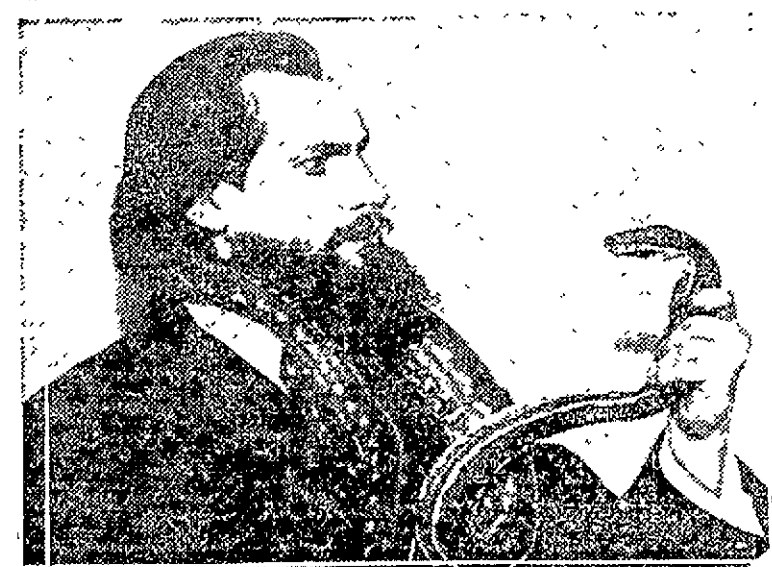

Sullins College of Bristol, Va., recently went in for some statistics. And after they had 'em all figured out, it developed that Miss Roberta Shafer of Roanoke, Va., was the most attractive girl in the college. After viewing the photo, we think more of statistics.

Jockey W. Smyth, supposed to be riding "Black Jerry," a famous steeplechaser, rolled himself into a tight ball after a spill at Hurst Park, England. He came out of this tumble without a scratch.

My, oh my, what will these press agents do next? Just look what the gentlemen at St. Petersburg, Fla., has thought of. Fair maidens hunting fish with bow and arrows. And just to prove it, he went and speared a poor fish on one pretty maiden's arrow. Diance he calls 'em. Munchausen, we say.

Here is shown Professor Eugene Duployen de Gyn, master of Applied Psychology of the Psychological Institute, Bucharest, as he produces a state of cataplexy in a deadly Australian snake. Considering the fact that a snake has hypnotic eyes of his own, the feat is a remarkable one. The professor claims that by means of hypnotism he can cure many mental disorders.

BUSY PROGRAM FOR SHORT FARM COURSE

Special courses, contests and demonstrations will feature the annual free short course given by the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin in Madison, during Farmers and Home Makers Week, Feb. 2 to 6 inclusive. Special courses have been arranged for poultry and soil fertility. Exhibits of grain, potatoes and livestock with judging, contests, horse pulling contests, demonstrations of practical farm improvements and meetings of the state breed associations will keep the students busy every minute of the week. The home economics department has a full week of special interest to the housewife.

Lectures will be given by Herman H. Bundesen, commissioner of health for Chicago, Gilbert Guster, reporter of market news, and George Marble, farmer, banker and publisher of Kansas.

BUS COMPANY ORDERS SPECIAL TYPE CARRIER

One of the finest buses in this part of the state will be added to the Wisconsin Central Motorbus lines in the near future, according to the plans of Ben Lutz, proprietor. The bus will be a Packard, equipped with special 14-horse power. The body which will be a double-length sedan type, one of the longest in the district, is being built by the Badger Co. of Milwaukee. It will be a special noiseless type.

Mr. Lutz expects the carrier to be ready for operation in six or eight weeks. He is planning to run one bus on a regular schedule between Appleton and Shawano.

STUDENTS COMPETE FOR THREE ENGLISH PRIZES

The annual contests for the Alex. and Reid, John Hicks and the Tichenor prizes for literary work have been announced for 1925 by the Lawrence department of English. Awards will be made in the spring.

The competition for the Reid and Hicks prizes is in the department of rhetoric. In charge of Prof. F. W. Clippinger. The Reid prize was founded by the late Alexander Reid of Appleton and contributions are limited to essays of 1,000 to 2,000 words. The prizes are $30 and $20. Competition for the Hicks prize is confined to the three upper classes, and is in English composition. It was established by the late John Hicks of Oshkosh.

Dr. William E. McPheeters is in charge of the Tichenor prize, established by Charles I. Tichenor, of Kansas City, Mo. The prizes, first and second, are open to upper classmen, and are awarded on the basis of a competitive examination in English literature. The work stressed is Shakespearean, Elizabethan drama, the Romantic movement, Victorian era, and the history of the English language.

CITY HALL TELEPHONE NUMBER NO LONGER IS KEY TO ALL REMEDIES

People die and their telephone numbers live after them but one of the most commonly known numbers in this city is "98." Governments may come and governments may go, but "98" is like the city clerk who possesses it. It lingers, E. L. Williams, the clerk, entered upon his duties at the city hall 21 years ago, but "98" preceded him. It once was able to rouse the entire city hall, for a switchboard in the clerk's office connected all other offices with "98." Last year a system of individual telephone lines was introduced in the city building. Numbers ranging from 3717 and 3722 were assigned. Some one suggested a number of the same series to be given the clerk's office, but it seemed sacrilegious to discontinue so historical a number. And now "98" is a thorn in the flesh. For three-fourths of the people who are accustomed to call up the city hall about anything from house numbers to small pox, are connected with some office and can't be. Thus the old number "98" has ceased to be the line of least resistance, as it often means hanging up and calling all over again.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS MEET AT JANESVILLE

Expect Delegates from 65 Counties at Annual State Conference

The annual meeting of the Holstein Breeders' association of Wisconsin will be held in Janesville on Wednesday, Feb. 18, according to the announcement of the executive committee of the organization.

This year's annual meeting is the thirty-third successive conference of this livestock breeders organization. Membership runs into the thousands and active wide-awake county units are organized in 65 counties of the state. It is expected that every county will be represented with at least one delegate, and a goodly number of Holstein breeders are expected from counties in the southern half of the state where Holsteins are especially numerous.

Among the important subjects to be considered, are the matter of changing the county quota share payments of the state association budget from an allotment to a membership basis, the matter of getting before the dairymen of other states with a concerted program of advertising and publicity, out-of-state show herds; formation of a sales service, expansion of testing; improvement of public sales; furtherance of Holstein exhibits at Wisconsin affairs, election of four directors, and outlining a program for 1925.

WANT CONFERENCE ON WORLD RELATIONS

Mrs. W. Z. Stuart of Neenah, chairman of International Cooperation to Prevent War, Wisconsin League of Women Voters, has presented a plan to various organizations and clubs in Milwaukee for holding a 2-day conference on international relations. It is planned to hold the conference Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 16 and 17, in Milwaukee. Noted authorities and experts are to make addresses and conduct classes.

Appleton women who are interested in attending the conference are asked to get in touch with Mrs. D. O. Kinsman of Appleton Women's Club.

The program committee has already determined on two noted speakers, Paul Harvey and Arnold Bennett. Hall Mr. Harvey will speak Monday afternoon on the Geneva Protocol. The committee is in correspondence with Mrs. Thomas G. Wynter, Mrs. May Mayne Isaac Maccohen and Pittman Potter.

Questions of international relations will be considered from a viewpoint of men and women who are on opposing sides, so the meetings will be non-partisan in character, Mrs. Kinsman said.

Lee Home May Be Made National Shrine

Washington—A new national shrine, which will become second only in historic interest to Mt. Vernon, will be developed by the restoration of the famous old Lee mansion in Arlington national cemetery.

Even now this old mansion, which with its massive Doric portico and Virginia hills immediately across the Potomac from the Lincoln Memorial is visited by a quarter million tourists yearly.

But it is only the shell of the home in which southern chivalry and hospitality found their highest development that they see today.

The great rooms are bare and empty. Stripped of all furnishings, there is little suggestion of the warmth and cheer and charm they must have held during the proud days when George Washington Parke Custis, who had been adopted as a son by General Washington, entertained there with a lavishness surpassing anything even Mt. Vernon had ever known.

Now the House has passed a bill authorizing the restoration of the old Arlington mansion to the condition in which it existed during the days of the Lees there, and to obtain so far as possible for this purpose the original furnishings and equipment used by the Lees. It is to be hoped the Senate will add its approval.

The restoration of Arlington, in fact, would but carry forward as part of a unified scheme for perpetuating historic associations the work so far done at Mt. Vernon.

For there is a most intimate connection between Arlington and Mt. Vernon, which the public generally does not now know.

The builder of Arlington was George Washington Parke Custis, grandson of Martha Washington. John Parke Custis, his father, died at the siege of Yorktown.

General Washington, who wedded the widow Custis, John Parke's mother, adopted as his own the two Custis children (grandchildren of Mrs. Washington), George Washington Parke Custis and Eleanor Custis, better known as "Nelly" Washington.

Young Custis was a member of the Mt. Vernon household from the time

125 MEN IN VALLEY BOY SCOUT COUNCIL WILL BE AT DINNER

Address by Dr. Elsom Will Be Feature of Annual Meeting on Thursday

An attendance of at least 125 men is expected at the annual dinner of Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, at 6:30 Thursday evening at Hotel Northern Prof. J. E. Elsom, M. D. of the University of Wisconsin, a fascinating speaker on outdoor life and boys' work, is to give an address after the business meeting and election of officers.

Members of all the district committees in the council have been invited by P. O. Keicher, valley executive. This will mean delegations from Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna, Little Chute and Kimberly. The dining room will seat only 125 so Mr. Keicher has asked early reservations from those who will be present.

Athletics, outdoor life, amateur photography and scoutcraft have been the hobbies of Dr. Elsom since he was a boy. He is brimming over with enthusiasm about a "man's" way of living and he always makes a "hit" with audiences of men.

COLLEGE ENGLISH CLUB BEGINS BOOK REVIEWING

Kenneth F. Stone, '25, of Duluth, Minn., is preparing a paper on Michael Arlen to be presented before the Lawrence college English club on Monday. Miss Jean Jamison, Neenah, is president of the group which is studying contemporary novelists.

Mr. Stone and Herbert T. Webster, '27, of Plymouth, recently began a book review column in the college weekly, the Lawrencean. The first book reviewed was "The Green Hat" by Michael Arlen. The review reads in part, "The whole work is finely wrought like a piece of medieval tapestry or a Samakand rug. It is the product of deliberate and unhurried craftsmanship. Mr. Arlen is not a great novelist yet. To rank among the immortals he must add depth and sincerity to his wit and charm."

Federal Income Tax

YOUR TAX

Salaries paid employees constitute one of the largest items of business expense in the returns of many taxpayers. To be allowed such a deduction must conform closely to the wording of the statute by which it is defined as "a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered." The test of deductibility is whether the amounts paid are reasonable, and whether they are, in fact, purely for personal services.

Amounts paid as compensation, but not in fact as the purchase price of services, are not deductible. For example, an ostensible salary paid by a corporation may be the distribution of a dividend on stock. This may be the procedure in the case of a corporation having few stockholders all of whom draw salaries. If in such a case the salaries are in excess of those ordinarily paid for similar services, and the excessive payments correspond or bear close relationship to the stockholdings of the officers or employees it would seem likely that such salaries are not wholly for services rendered, but that the excessive payments are a distribution of earnings upon stock and subject to treatment as a dividend. An ostensible salary may be in part payment of property, for example where a partnership sells out to a corporation, the former partners agreeing to remain in the service of the corporation. In such case it may be found that the salaries paid to former partners are not merely for services, but in part constitute the payment for the transfer of their interest in the business. The amount of the excess should be treated by the payer as a distribution of services or otherwise capital expenditure which is not deductible, and by the recipient as part of the purchase price. A person who claims a deduction for wages or salary paid himself should report the amount as income, just as any other wages or salary received. Salaries or wages paid by a parent to a minor child who has no other income, or a husband to his wife, are not considered as income, but should be treated by the payer as a distribution of services or otherwise capital expenditure which is not deductible, and by the recipient as part of the purchase price.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS AGAIN WILL HAVE MILK FOR LUNCH

Survey Made by City Nurse Reveals Need of Nourishment for Children

Menasha—Grads pupils of the public schools were made happy Monday by the return of their milk lunch to which they had been accustomed for several years. The first knowledge they had of it was when they saw several cases of milk piled up in the hallway upon reaching their school building.

It was announced at the beginning of the school year that the use of milk in the schools was to be discontinued, but it has just been restored upon the completion of a survey made by the new school nurse, Miss Caroline Schlattman. Parents who can afford to pay for the milk used by their children do so and the children of those who cannot are provided with it gratis.

CROWD OF 4,000 ATTENDS WINTER CARNIVAL EVENTS

Kaukauna Hockey Team Defeats Neenah—Speed Manoeuvres on Ice Thrill Crowd

Neenah—It is estimated that more than 4,000 people braved the cold and stormy weather Sunday afternoon to attend the first winter sport affair in Neenah. People from all parts of the valley were there, some taking part in contests while others went out to the lake to see the taking of motion pictures of the speed boats.

The first event was the hockey game of the Columbia park rink in which Kaukauna team was defeated by Neenah team by a score of 3 to 2. Pictures were taken during the progress of the game. The crowd then went to the lake where the stage was set for some speed events by the new ice launch recently built by Dr. T. D. Smith and the one built by Robert Elyard and Clyde Buxton. These two boats with the fleet of ice boats headed by Old King Cole and Blue Bird owned by the interests of Oshkosh, furnished some thrilling moments to the spectators.

The ice races were postponed on account of the poor condition of the ice and the late hour. A thriller in the shape of an auto being driven into the lake did not come out as well as expected as the driver was not, as charged over a dip in the ice water so the machine did not take the plunge other than the front wheels being submerged.

During all these events the picture machine was registering the activities to be shown here later. Those who could withstand the cold weather enjoyed the excitement.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets or any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Lithaemia is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to the double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. adv.

This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing Specialists Didn't Help

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrupy cough mixtures to stop a stubborn cough that persists in hanging on.

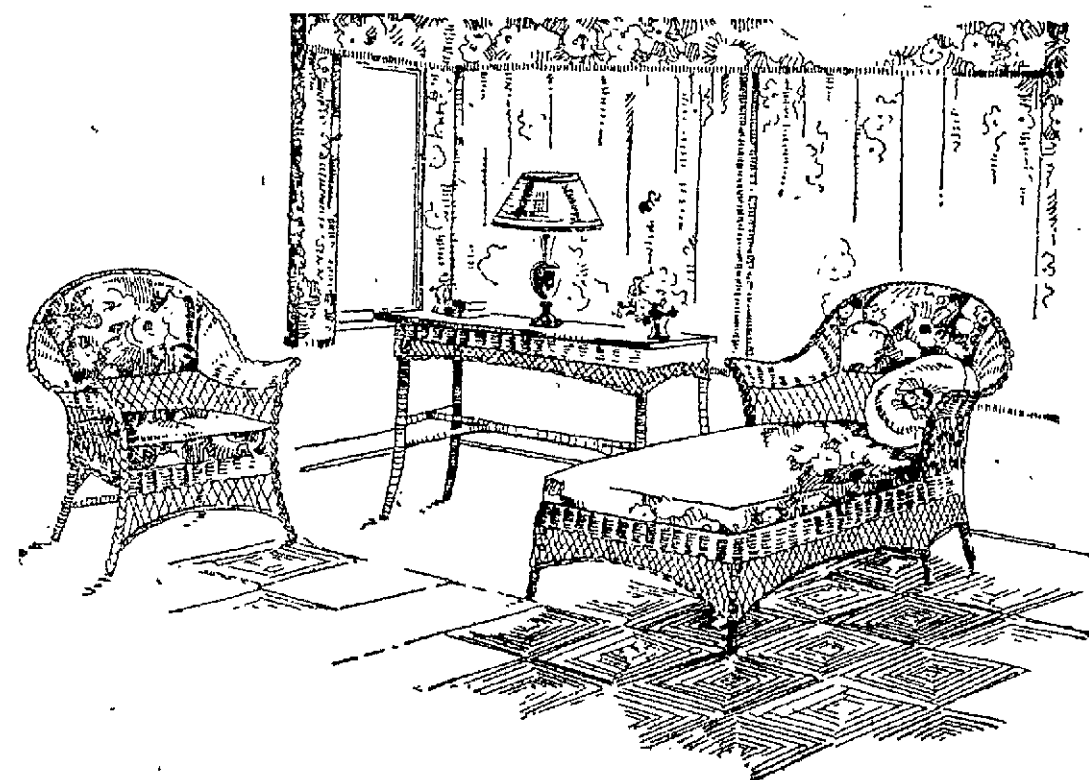

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Broncholine Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, choleform or dope in Broncholine Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Broncholine Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Voigt's Drug Store and Union Pharmacy or any good dealer for a bottle — often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough. adv.

Perfect Figure Awarded To Those Who Exercise

Beauty and Poise Can Be Had at Price of Physical Effort And Temperance

BY GILDA GRAY

The perfect figure, like many of the good things of life, is not on sale to the highest bidder, but is awarded only at the price of physical effort and temperance at the table.

The only way to get a good figure unless nature was particularly generous, is to work for it.

In previous articles I stressed the idea of keeping the fat off your waist line and I reiterate it today. Remember, if you can keep your abdomen flat, you have your pounds under control.

CHAIR EXERCISES

There's another chair exercise to which I want to call your attention as helpful to that end, that will also do wonders toward beautifying your arms and making your legs shapely. Sit erect in your chair, then grasp the back firmly and stretch your head as far forward as you can bending at the waistline and rising on your tip toes. You can do this a number of times without becoming too tired and at the same time you are breaking down fat cells about your waist.

Vary this by coming back to position with your knees doubled over your chest as in the other photograph. And rest a few moments in this position. Exercise until your body is supple and you can be comfortable in any position.

Now for a few harder stunts.

If it is possible, arrange a bar in some part of the house at just the height you can reach with your hands when you are seated on the floor. Then seated draw yourself up to lean the pole using only your arms. This exercise is invaluable for the upper arm and the shoulders and chest.

Here is an exercise that is absolutely fatal to fat about the waist. Lie flat on your back on the floor with your arms folded on your chest. Rise to a sitting position, keeping your knees stiff, bending and supporting yourself entirely without moving your legs. Then bring your arms forward, reaching to your toes.

This exercise is a strenuous one and should not be done to excess when you first attempt it.

SQUATTING EXERCISES

All kinds of squatting exercises are good for the muscles of the abdomen and thighs. With your hands on your hips, bend down so that the thigh forms a right angle with the trunk. Keep your heels raised and one foot slightly behind the other to keep balance. Rise and squat until you are exhausted.

When you are exercising, keep your incentive, the perfect figure, constantly in your mind. Otherwise you will find it difficult to continue them day after day. Try not to become routine but get pleasure out of your bodily prowess. If possible do them to music. The rhythm will carry you along and keep you interested.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE GOBLIN IN THE GROCERY

Nancy and Nick, and Johnny Sweep looked everywhere for Snitcher Snatch the goblin.

They went from house-top to house-top, and climbed down chimneys until the Twins got almost as black as Johnny Sweep himself.

But none of the Sooties had seen him and it did seem as though he had become tired of mischief making and decided to be good for awhile.

They were partly right, for, in mixing up the spices in the kitchen cupboard, Snitcher Snatch had got ten pepper in his eyes.

And they huri so terribly that he had to go to old Doctor Hokus Pokus and get them cured up.

"You'll have to use an eye cap and wash them out with some stuff in a bottle three times a day," said Doctor Hokus Pokus. "And you'll have to have a bandage over your eyes for three days. After that you'll be all right."

So Snitcher Snatch went home and his goblin mama took care of him for three days, but to the bad little fellow it seemed like three hundred years.

And all the time his spouts kept getting more and more bottled up until at last if something hadn't happened, Snitcher Snatch would have exploded arother.

And it certainly would have saved some people a lot of trouble if he had.

Well, the minute he was better he came out of his house in Goblin Land and ran to the gate by the root of the dogwood tree and looked around.

It was all snowy, but goblins never mind the cold.

Across the valley he could see the tall smoke stacks and chimneys of the city.

"Ha, ha! He ha!" he cried. "Here's where I have some fun."

So now you know where he was while Johnny Sweep and the Twins were hunting for him.

Well, the first place he came to was a grocery store.

A woman was just going in with a market basket on her head.

And what did Snitcher Snatch do but give a little run and jump and land in the basket.

So when she went into the grocery store the goblin went in too!

One half cup stewed rhubarb, 1 cup cream of spinach soup, 1/2 cup combination vegetable salad on bed of lettuce, with 1 tablespoon lemon juice seasoned with salt and pepper, 6 ounces broiled shad with lemon juice, 1 new potato, 6 stalks asparagus on lettuce hearts (2) with 2 teaspoons mayonnaise, 1 cup strawberries, 1 toasted bun, 1 whole slice crisp whole wheat toast, 1 gluten roll, 1 pint skimmed milk.

Total calories, 1221. Protein, 28.8. Fat, 34.1. carbohydrate, 372. Iron, 0.212 gram.

A broiled salad dressing should be served on the asparagus rather than a cold mayonnaise.

This rule is excellent for a reducing diet and if swapped soon cream is added will be found very satisfactory for the whole family.

SALAD DRESSING

One teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 8 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon water, 2 eggs (yolks).

Melt butter in flour sugar salt, mustard and pepper. Add vinegar and water and cook stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Remove from the fire and add the unbeaten yolks of eggs. Beat well and set aside to cool. Store in a pint jar until wanted to use. Thin with skimmed milk if too thick.

'High Stepper' Will Marry 'Home' Girl

BY CYNTHIA GRAY

It doesn't take the seventh daughter of a seventh daughter to tell a man's fortune even to the color of his future wife's eyes. Anyone can do it without the help of cards, palmistry or the evanescent stars.

For example if he admires small blond girls with baby blue eyes and a giggle he is practically certain to marry a source of mused a half head taller than he is.

And such is fate that if he is attracted by clever women, who talk in epigrams and read every book that is published he will probably wed a beautiful dumb bell who thinks that the Dardanelles is a vaudeville troupe.

If he likes to step out and could double for Marlene Dietrich, the chances are that his bride will be a home-maker 2 and who staps home meat to watch the dough rise in the bread pan.

But it has the suit who has a neavy date nightnally with the easy chair and the evening paper it's a foregone conclusion that the wife of his boom will spend most of her time saving him much more to ward the bright lights that she loves.

QUESTIONS—ANSWERS

Dear Miss Gray: I have been in the habit of opening my husband's mail. Now he is having all of it sent to his office. Doesn't it look to you as if he and something he is trying to hide from me?—Doctor's Wife.

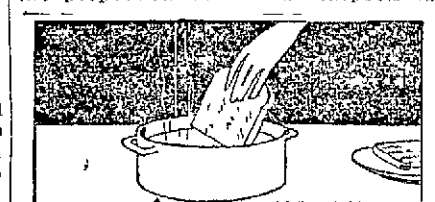

Not at all. He probably feels as most people do that he has a right to open his own letters however. And you ought to know the contents of his mail so thoroughly by this time that you don't have to worry about what is in it.

Miss Gray: I expect to be graduated in June from college. But I have been engaged for two years to a man 10 years older than I. He wants me to be married at once. My father thinks I ought to finish school. Who's right?—G. M.

Having been engaged so long, I think your fiancé ought to be patient for a few months longer until you have your degree. It would hardly be fair to disappoint your father now when he has spent so much money to give you an education.

Household Hints

The cut of spring footwear will swing back to conservative lines again, the extreme cutaway design of last year disappearing.

Brown, gray and blue will be the basic colors, with several tints of each.

BLOOMER POCKETS

Pockets bound with color and serving no particular purpose but that of decoration, are seen on the new silk bloomers.

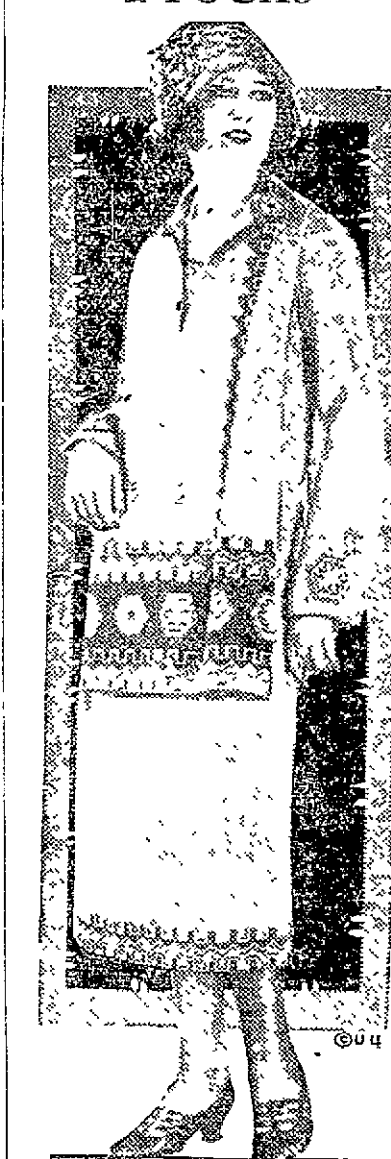

EVENING GOWN

A new striking gown is made of soft black velvet. A delicate slip with no sleeves is worn for evening wear, or if it is desired for daytime wear a long sleeved slip can be used.

CHINESE ART

Embroidery of Chinese patterns being used on fashionable tunic dresses, Black satin goes with it as an attractive trimming.

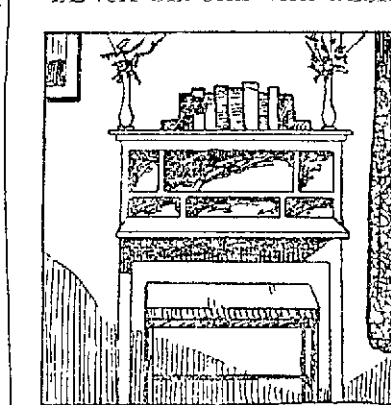

Beige Wool Frocks

Borders of embroidery make these beige wool frocks most unusual and striking without in the least detracting from its practical side. The brilliant reds and greens in the embroidery indicate a colorful season ahead.

BENCH BEFORE THE DESK

Instead of a chair, with its back to the room, a bench looks in better place in front of a desk. It appears more comfortable and decorative than the general run of desk chairs.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE CONTINUED

My whole life, Ruth, is bound up in John and my adopted son. Perhaps if I were of a lighter type of woman, I would make John happier. I remember his telling me once that there were women in this world who have loved men devotedly and yet made them unhappy every day in the week. I don't want to be one of that kind of women.

I know it would break my heart to have John go out of my life, yet I cannot bear this constant quarrelling we have seemed to have lately.

It may seem to you, my dear, strange that a woman in my condition should not think of leaving her husband. Of course, with me, neither myself nor my children would be dependent upon John for support. The other day at a luncheon a number of newly wedded women were discussing another one who was just getting a divorce.

Said one of them, I think I would have tried to strangle it out a little longer had I been Lucille. A man usually comes back repentant and contrite.

"Not at all," answered the speaker. "I believe many of our mothers and grandmothers stuck it out because they just didn't know what else to do. Now almost all women know that somewhere, if they will honestly work, they will find a husband's support is not necessary. Consequently they do not submit as often to anything that is not a fifty-fifty proposition.

"But the children," spoke up another.

"Yes, what of the children?" interrupted an older woman, who had the reputation of being a very unhappy wife. "I wish some one would decide for me whatever it would be better for children to grow up in a home with constantly bickering parents, a home filled with unhappiness, or decide for me whether it would be better off if the parents separated."

"I think," said another woman about the table, "that it is because we are less patient than our mothers and grandmothers were that the proportion of divorces to marriages has reached such an alarming figure."

"No," answered another woman. "I believe there were just as many unhappy women and just as many impatient women belonging to the mid-Victorian era as there are today. But divorce is now more prevalent because there are more women who are economically independent."

"What a horrid idea!" spoke up a bride.

"Not at all," answered the speaker. "I believe many of our mothers and grandmothers stuck it out because they just didn't know what else to do. Now almost all women know that somewhere, if they will honestly work, they will find a husband's sup-

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

and they went with either one or the other of them.

"I sometimes think," she added almost to herself, "that 'home' is another one of those words that we worship blindly without stopping to think of what it might be composed of."

Ruth, this conversation was extremely illuminating to me. I found out that other women were not only thinking but discussing the very question that seemed in my case unique.

Orange Seconds Win In Opener But Regs Take Severe Beating

Suspension of Ashman and Courtney Blamed for Poor Showing Made by Appleton Schoolers

Weakened by the absence of Courtney and Ashman from the lineup, Appleton high school Saturday night lost its second game at Neenah, 23 to 4, while the Orange seconds were victorious over the Neenah seconds, 17 to 12, in the opener. The main game started off fast and it was evident from the start that Appleton was outclassed. The Neenah men were taller than the Orange and got the jumps every time. The lack of the two regulars slowed the Appleton team up badly, and the Orange cagers were able to get past the Neenah defense for but one lonely field goal. Bowditch accounted for this in the third quarter.

A half-time Neenah had piled up a 14 to 1 lead. Kneip having made a free throw after Ehrigott fouled him. Every man on the Neenah five scored at least one basket or a free throw. In the first quarter Appleton failed to score, while the freethrows by Stulp and a basket by Keating gave Neenah five points. In the second quarter the ball was in Appleton territory most of the time, and practically the only chance the Orange had to score was on fouls. Meanwhile Neenah had little difficulty in working the ball under the basket time after time. Parker and Braderick each making two baskets and Keating dropping the ball through the hoop for a free throw.

Bowling managed to drop the ball through the hoop from a difficult angle in the second half after Ehrigott had caged two field goals, and early in the third quarter made a freethrow off Parker's foul. During the rest of the game Neenah had things all its own way, and Appleton never threatened to score. In the opener the second teams were evenly matched, but superior shooting on Appleton's part gave the Barlowmen the game.

Lineups in the main game were as follows:

Appleton	Neenah
R. F. Hieble	Parker R. F.
L. P. Kneip	Stulp, L. F.
C. Fraser	Braderick C. R.
R. G. Bowditch	Koerwitz R. G.
L. C. Pfeiffer	Keating, L. G.
Substitutions: Sch. for Fraser, E. for Pfeiffer, Cookson for Kneip, Reitz for Cookson, Ehrigott for Parker, Schroeder for Braderick, Referee, Buck.

FAVOR MILWAUKEE FOR 1926 BOWLING TOURNEY

Fond du Lac—Selection of the 1926 tournament city for the Wisconsin Bowling association will be made Monday with Milwaukee leading for the prize.

Better bowling marked the over-Sunday shifts in all events. The Sterling Oils of Milwaukee crashed their way to the top of the five-man with 230.

H. Nelson of Milwaukee rolled into a tie for fifth place in the singles with 640, and J. Williams of La Crosse, after hitting 233 and 243, slipped to 165 and settled in seventh place.

Some of Milwaukee's best bowlers will be on the drives Monday night.

Bushey Stars In Basketball On Coast Five

Kenneth Bushey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bushey of Los Angeles, former residents of this city, is starting at basketball for one of the Los Angeles high schools, according to newspaper clippings received by friends in this city from former Appletonians now residing in the coast state. Young Bushey, who is a freshman, scored 19 points in recent game in which his school defeated a neighboring town by a score of 19 to 10. His work has been the largest factor in most of the team's games. Bushey is well-known among the young men of Appleton. His father, John Bushey, was one of the proprietors of Bushey's business college for years, with his brother Fred, now coach of the star Waupaca City team.

When Judge Landis quizzed Cozy Dolan he just couldn't remember a thing. Yet, in his day, Cozy was rated a smart ball player. Hardly speaks well for the profession.

Umpire "Ducky" Holmes, during his stay in the American League, failed to live up to his name. He stopped everything, including two right swings, that caused him to lose both decisions.

Despite the great success achieved by Paavo Nurmi in this country, the buttons are still on his vest and he hasn't had to change the size of his hat.

IN BASKETBALL A FORWARD IS NEVER SUCCESSFUL IF INCLINED TO BE BACKWARD.

The poor memory that the ball players connected with the scandal are feigning, explains some of the lumb baseball we have been forced to sit through.

APPLETON GIVES UP STATE LEAGUE FRANCHISE

MOGULS CONSIDER PLAN TO GET INTO ORGANIZED FIELD

Ed. Ihrig of Oshkosh Is Elected President Pro Tem in Sunday Meeting

Appleton probably will be without a baseball team next season, David Smith having placed his franchise at the disposal of Wisconsin State league officials Sunday afternoon in the annual meeting at the Athearn hotel in Oshkosh. At this meeting the directors adopted a resolution looking toward the entry of the league into organized baseball, with a four-game-a-week schedule. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of expense and to investigate the attitude in the various cities. Ed Ihrig, president of the Ihrig-Washer Co. of Oshkosh was elected president pro tem to succeed T. E. McGillan, resigned, until the fate of the league has been decided. Ihrig also was appointed chairman of the investigating committee, on which he will be assisted by Walter Pierce of Menasha and O. A. Kroos of Sheboygan.

Green Bay was the only club which failed to send a representative to the Oshkosh conclave. Appleton, Fond du Lac, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna, Oshkosh and Sheboygan all were represented. Sheboygan, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Kaukauna declared themselves ready to continue in the present league. Menasha favored independent ball, but declared itself willing to enter organized ball to keep the league intact, while Dave Smith offered his franchise for the disposal of the league.

The directors of the Neenah-Menasha club Friday night will call a meeting of representative fans to decide upon a future course of action, and the rest of the clubs also planned similar meetings in the near future. Most of the teams seemed to look with favor on organized ball as a means of reviving interest in the national pastime in the state, but few of the managers were ready to definite action at the Sunday meeting. For this reason, and at the suggestion of T. E. McGillan who consented to conduct the meeting despite his resignation, the investigating committee was decided upon. This committee will make its report at a meeting to be called at the discretion of Mr. Ihrig, and until that time no definite action will be taken by any of the clubs.

LAWRENCE MAT AND RING STARS STAGE SECOND TOURNEYS

Record Crowd Sees Boxers and Wrestlers Look Horns Saturday

Lawrence mat and boxers Saturday held their second tryout tournaments of the year in Alexander gymnasium, showing considerable improvement over their first appearance on Jan. 17. The large crowd which thronged the gymnasium made it necessary to hold the matches on the basketball floor, where a mat and ring were rigged up, the regular wrestling room being too small.

Several scheduled matches in both events had to be postponed because of the inability of contestants to appear.

In the 125-pound class Smith took two out of three five minute falls from Peterson, while Knaup and Parmelee grappled to a draw. Knaup was forced to leave the mat with a broken rib, but will finish the match next week.

Hawkes, by winning from McKenzie, took his place in the finals in which he will grapple with Froehne in the 135-pound class. Burman will meet Cookson in the 145-pound finals, having thrown Aluck twice out of three falls Saturday, while in the 155-pound class, Nobles, having survived his match with Warner, will meet Schraeder in the finals. Sabin in the 165-pound division, took two out of three falls from Wheeler.

Results of the boxing tourney were as follows: 125-pound class Rahe defeated West, MacKenzie outgott Egnum in three 2-minute rounds.

145-pound class, Cookson won from Fairchild.

135-pound class, Pearce defeated Webb.

155-pound class, Ferris lost to Locklin.

Tubbs and Ansong next week will stage an exhibition match in the finals.

HOEPPLE AND LIETHEN MEET IN CUE TOURNEY

What is expected to be the closest and most interesting match of the Fox River valley pocket billiards tournament now in progress at the Carr, Hansen and Pindie parlors here will be staged at 8:30 P. M. Monday, when H. Hoepple and H. Liethen, both of Appleton, cross cues in a 100-point contest. Originally the games were set at 125 points, but after the first series had been played it was found these matches were too long and the limit was set back to 100.

Several more entries were received over the week end, bringing the list up to nine. Among the late entries are E. LaFond and S. Bunker.

Cornell's Showing At Ripon Promises Hard Battle Monday

Lawrence Cagers Prepare for Close Contest in Armory G on Midwest Schedule

Cornell college Saturday night bowed to Ripon, 27 to 25, at Ripon, but the Crimson had been doped to win by a much larger score. This promises a harder game than was expected here Monday night, when the Cornell quint plays Lawrence in Armory G. Coach A. C. Denney saw the game at Ripon and reports that Cornell has an excellent aggregation.

Ripon required a five-minute overtime period to conquer the Cornell team, which is a further indication of Cornell's strength. Cornell conquered Knox earlier in the season and a look at the scores of all its games indicates a strong scoring aggregation, but a defense lacking in strength.

The Lawrence lads are in excellent shape for Monday night's contest. Zussman and Heidemann are slated to start as forwards. Ashman will play center, and Kotol and Brisee will start at guard. Grove and Koschak on the sidelines will be ready to go in when needed, and the showing they have been making in recent games is extremely encouraging. The chief weakness of the Lawrence five was a lack of substitutes early this year, but with these two men developing into strong players, that difficulty has been removed to a large extent.

Extra-seating arrangements are being made for the large crowd expected to see the game Monday night. High bleachers are being erected on both sides of the Armory G court, but despite this it will be advisable to come early. The game is scheduled to start at 7:15 P. M. Previous games, however, saw the seats all taken when the game started and scores of fans standing at the entrance.

Washington, D. C.—The government has abandoned prosecution of its appeal in the action against Benedict Crowell of Cleveland, former assistant secretary of war, and six other defendants on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with wartime construction contracts.

The department of justice announced Friday night that Attorney General Stone had decided to withdraw the government's appeal from the decision of Justice Hoehling of the District of Columbia Supreme Court sustaining the demurrer in the case after concluding that the indictment did not state a crime and was otherwise defective in form. Returned by a federal grand jury here in December 1922, the indictment was the first of its kind resulting from the war fraud investigations by Attorney General Daugherty immediately after he took office.

KING GEORGE IS OWNER OF SALOON BUT RENTS IT OUT

Village Near Sandringham Estate Provides Drinks for Royal Employees

BY MILTON BRONNER
Sandringham, Eng. — I've just fastened King George's purse by buying a glass of ale from him. King George didn't serve it to me, but I drank it in the "pub" of the Feathers Inn in this peaceful village in Norfolk county.
The Feathers Inn may not mean much to you but it's unique in this world because it's owned by the king of England.
Every glass of foaming ale, every whisky and soda, every soft drink sold across the bar adds to the king's financial battling average.
The late King Edward VII used to come over from his neighboring castle to quaff a glass or two when he was thirsty. And to good Edward quite often was thirsty, they say.
Today it numbers among its principal customers many of the employees of King George, who work at Sandringham.
The Feathers Inn displays prominently the crest and motto of all the princes of Wales, heirs to the British throne.
Over the doorway is the sign "Hotel" and painted over that are the three ostrich feathers forming the crest of the prince.
And under the feathers is the motto, "Ich Dien"—German for "I serve him." I can't be positive, but the fact remains that they do. And it's downright stuffy stuff, as they used to say in the days when a yeoman was a yeoman.
This village is the nearest one to the royal estate of Sandringham, residence of King Edward and of his queen, Alexandra, who lives there now.
Many years ago it was realized it would never do to compel employees of the estate to go 10 miles to King Lynn to get a drink. Englishmen won't walk 10 miles for a drink, even if their American brothers will. So King Edward had the present inn built—a neat structure of red brick and brown stone chips.
King George never has "bought," although his father used to empty a flagon with the rest of them.
The manager of the place once worked for royalty. From his record it was known he would be quiet, efficient and uncommunicative. The man who runs a place for the king must not be a gossip.
It seems a shame. Bartenders and "pub" managers are supposed to listen to all their customers' complaints and comfort them with choice gossip and admonitions to "have another."

CONTEST OF LINDSEY'S ELECTION IS QUASHED

Denver, Colo.—Judge Charles C. Butler, in the Denver District court, Monday handed down a decision upholding a motion made by attorneys for Ben B. Lindsey, judge of Denver's juvenile court, to dismiss the election contest brought against Lindsey by Judge Royal C. Graham.
The decision does not affect quo warranto proceedings brought by Graham last week, seeking to gain the office to which Lindsey was elected on the face of returns.

Chicago—Four men arrested Saturday for the murder of Russell S. Dickey, express messenger on the "Illinois" limited, crack Chicago and Northwestern train, on Dec. 20 during a holdup attempt, Monday faced two hearings, one before a coroner's jury and the other before a justice of the peace at Highland Park, Chicago suburb. Dickey sacrificed his life rather than give up $100,000 in his care.
The men are Bernard P. Smith, policeman of the Chicago detective bureau, Edward J. Smith and Bernard Mylin, both of Milwaukee, and Ralph McKee.

Capital Stock (no par value)	.....	2,000 shares
FROM THE LETTER OF J. L. H. FOX, PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY, THE FOLLOWING SALIENT FACTS ARE SUMMARIZED:

COMPANY AND PROPERTY: Bastrop Pulp & Paper Company now owns and operates at Bastrop, La., a complete sulphate pulp and paper mill with a daily capacity of upwards of 60 tons of sulphate pulp and upwards of 50 tons of Kraft paper; all finished within the last three years and constituting the lowest cost Kraft paper operation in the United States.

SECURITY: This issue, which refunds the original 7 1/2% bond issue, and provides added working capital, will be the only funded debt of the Company, and will be secured by closed first mortgage on all the property of the Company, including mills, timber holdings and various rights, contracts and easements. The mill site, sidings, buildings and equipment alone have been appraised by Joseph H. Wallace & Co., at $1,750,000 after depreciation, to which should be added upwards of $50,000 for timber lands and timber rights acquired by the Company, giving a total physical value of over $1,800,000. Total net tangible assets exceed $2,500 per $1,000 bond. The mortgage requires the maintenance of quick assets equal to at least twice current liabilities.

EARNINGS: Prior to the completion of the paper mill in the Fall of 1923, the Company had produced only pulp. Net earnings after depreciation available for bond interest in 1923 were $150,227 and in the year 1924 were $223,665, as against maximum interest charges on this bond issue of $52,000 per annum. These earnings have been made at a time when many Kraft paper operations have been unprofitable due to forced foreign liquidation. Earnings are now running substantially larger.

OWNERSHIP: Control of this Company is owned by L. H. Fox of Kansas City, Missouri, principal owner of the Kansas City Packing Box Company and the Kansas City Fibre Box Company. Associated with Mr. Fox are Richard J. Cullen, Vice-President of the Company, A. L. Berger of Kansas City, Kans., W. L. Rock, Kansas City, Mo., and J. F. Cleary of Kansas City, Mo. These gentlemen constitute the directorate.

ENGINEERS' REPORT: Joseph H. Wallace & Co. say in their report: "This property is a very unusual and attractive one. We are familiar with practically all of the plants with which this property competes in the markets for Kraft paper, and we feel no hesitancy in stating that the Bastrop Pulp & Paper Company is producing Kraft Paper at a lower cost than is possible at any other existing plant in the United States. * * * The management of this plant deserves great credit in the selection of location where the advantages of low wood cost and low power cost are combined with an excellent labor situation and transportation facilities to logical markets. * * * The Bastrop Company acquired 75% of its buildings and equipment for manufacturing pulp at a ridiculously low figure when compared with all its competitors. * * * Under the average trade conditions of the past ten years this plant could reasonably be expected to produce 15,000 tons of paper per annum with an average earning of $50 a ton or a total annual earning of $750,000 — it appears conservative to assume that the plant under consideration will produce at an average profit of $20 per ton or an average earning of $300,000 per annum during the next five years."

The accounts of the Company are audited by Messrs. C. G. Robinson & Co. of New Orleans. All legal matters are subject to the approval of Messrs. Butler, Lamb, Foster & Pope, Chicago, counsel for the bankers, and Messrs. Madison & Madison, Bastrop, La., counsel for the Company.

We offer the above bonds, when, as and if issued and received by us.
PRICE 100 AND INTEREST, YIELDING 6.50%

The 7 1/2% Bonds, which have been called, will be received in payment of these bonds at 107 and interest.
